Businesses, Apartment Building Hit

Fire Chief Believes That Other Persons May Be Trapped

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Fire raged out of control for five hours in a block-long business and apartment building on Akron's east side today. An elderly woman was killed and two firemen were missing.

Firemen led 25 to 30 persons to safety down a stairway at the middle of the two-story brick structure. Others were lifted from upstairs windows and carried down ladders.

Fire Chief Gerald Vernotzky said he believed a few other persons may have been trapped. He said it would be some time before the ruins could be searched.

The roof of the building collapsed about 3 a.m., 20 minutes after two policemen first saw clouds of black smoke puring from a storeroom.

The building, on East Market Street, is two miles from the towntown area and a block from the big Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant. It is in one of the city's oldest business sections.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Margaret Barb, 76. She was dead before reaching Akron City Hospital.

The missing firemen were Lawrence L. Labbe and John Nist, both were assigned to a station only 100 yards from the scene of the fire.

"They were bringing people out," said Chief Vernotzy. "They went back in, and nobody saw them again." The two first were missed when a roll call was taken more than an hour after the fire-fighting began.

One apartment resident, Weldon Williams, 50, said he was awakened by someone yelling fire.

"I looked at the clock and it was 2:45," Williams said. "I woke up mother (Mrs. Minta Williams, 77) and got her out to a ladder. Then I went to Aunt Minne's (Mrs. Minnie Winkler, 82) in the next apartment and got her down the ladder."

L. H. Noble, 65, retired and a resident in the building about six months, said he thought he was the last one out.

"I woke up from the sound of whistles and sirens, and the room was filled with smoke," Noble said. "I put on my slippers, grabbed my pants and ran.

"Out in the hall a door opened and an elderly woman started out. I got hold of her, but she pulled away, went back inside and slammed the door. I tried to get her out—I tried and I tried until I couldn't stand it and had to get out."

All firemen on duty and a dozen fire trucks were sent to the fire. Off-duty firemen were called in.

U. S. Cavalrymen Repel 4 Attacks By Communists

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen on the Ia Drang Valley front pushed out today in search of their Communist attackers after beating off four North Vietnamese assaults during the night.

Moving out from a position just outside the valley in the remote highlands near the Cambodian border, the bloodied but still battling Americans reported 21 of the enemy had been killed and one captured during the night and today.

The troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division suffered light casualties, a U.S. spokesman reported. He said the latest enemy toll brought to 1,207 the number of North Vietnamese dead since the battle began in the Ia Drang Valley Sunday.

B52 bombers from Guam made two more raids on suspected North Vietnamese positions west of the 1st Cavalry forces.

During the night the North Vietnamese fired mortars and small arms into the three main American positions and stormed them in platoon to company strength. The Americans, entrenched in deep foxholes, fought them off.

Mortar fragments damaged a large, troop-carrying Chinook helicopter and a light spotter helicopter.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were engaged in a major buildup to reinforce the hard-pressed cavalrymen. A South Vietnamese force of regimental size was moved into the battle area about 35 miles south of Pleiku and 6 miles east of the Cambodian border.

American transport planes ferried gasoline, ammunition and food into Pleiku.

At Pleiku airport, 1st Cavalry details were trying to identify dozens of American bodies brought in Thursday. The Communists had removed all identification from the soldiers slain in an ambush Wednesday.

In marked contrast to their hit-and-run tactics earlier in the war, the Communists showed no sign of breaking off their attacks despite their heavy losses.

U.S. officers believe that the Communists badly need a major victory over U.S. forces to bolster their morale, feed their propaganda mills and move toward a position of strength from which to bargain in any peace negotiations which might develop.

The Americans also showed no sign of retreating. Their losses were not known because American losses in specific actions are not announced. But the cavalrymen this week have suffered the heaviest American losses of the war.

The Pentagon said Thursday that 108 Americans were killed and 350 wounded in South Viet Nam during the week that ended Monday night. It was the largest U.S. casualty total for any one week in Viet Nam, and it included only part of the fighting in the Ia Drang Valley.

The previous high was for Nov. 7-13, when 86 were killed and 230 wounded. The new figures bring the total of U.S. servicemen killed in Viet Nam since Jan 1, 1961, to 1,095 and the wounded to 5,661. The total of missing remained at 96.

A Washington compilation also showed a total of 3,542 Communist soldiers were killed in South Viet Nam during the four weeks that ended last Saturday.

Strike Halts Production Of Jet Craft

Delay In Launch Of Gemini Periled As Picket Lines Form

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — More than 17,000 machinists struck the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. at midnight Thursday stopping production on jet fighters used in Viet Nam and threatening to delay the launching of two Gemini flights from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

About 200 machinists set up a picket line at one of five gates at Cape Kennedy, where Geminis 6 and 7 are to be launched Dec. 4 and Dec. 13.

Another 17,000 machinists, almost half of the McDonnell employes, walked out at the huge aerospace plant in St. Louis, halting work on 50 Phantom jets, the type used by United States forces in Viet Nam.

Eugene Glover, vice president of District 9 of the International Association of Machinists, and company officials flew to Washington for a meeting today with federal mediators.

Spokesmen for the company and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a prolonged strike could upset the Gemini launchings.

The strike also will affect McDonnell aircraft and testing operations at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Holloman Air Force Base, Alamogordo, N.M.

However, other work at Cape Kennedy is not expected to be affected. By picketing only one gate, the machinists allowed some 3,000 union construction employes working on space projects with other aerospace firms to enter without crossing picket lines.

McDonnell machinists had staged a four-day wildcat strike in St. Louis one week earlier when union leaders would not authorize a walkout.

Auditor Files Report

Wellsville Fund 'Errors' Bared

Delays in distributing funds totaling $3,129 by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville and failure to pay certain state funds on time were reported in a summary of a special audit of the mayor's records released this week.

The report, however, pointed out the distributions and funds were paid subsequently by the mayor.

THE AUDIT, which covered the period July 1, 1964, to July 31, 1965, showed errors for adjustment against Mayor Daugherty in favor of the City of Wellsville totaling $3,129.

Deposits subsequently were made by the mayor to correct these errors, according to the report.

There was also $313 owed the state of Ohio by the mayor's office for fines and forfeitures in Highway Patrol cases, which the mayor later said had been paid after the audit period.

A sum of $102 owed from patrol cases to the Columbiana County Law Library Association also was reported, and apparently paid later.

The state examiner said when he arrived at the City Hall Aug. 2 for the special audit he was unable to promptly count the cash in the hands of the mayor because of his absence. A cash count was made on collections by the police department.

"Efforts were made without results to contact the mayor until 1:30 p.m. when cash and checks were exhibited by the mayor for making a count," the report reads.

The amount turned over was $2,866 in cash and checks and $379 in parking tickets, meter tickets and arrest bonds.

"During the examination, the mayor said he had failed to mail various checks to the state treasurer, but had mailed them on or about Aug. 5," the report stated.

THE REPORT indicated the mayor deposited into the city

No 1968 Bid For President, Rhodes Says

Points Out His Job Is To Carry Out Obligation To Ohio

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—No, answered Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes to the '68 question. Not for now, anyhow.

Interviewers took note of published reports the governor might become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. They asked him about this.

Rhodes gave his standard answer: "Right now my job is to carry out to the best of my ability my obligation to the 11 million residents of Ohio.

"At the moment, I have no other undertakings."

Speculation in Ohio is that the governor will announce as a candidate for re-election soon after he returns there tonight from his tour with a Buckeye trade mission.

Rhodes planned to leave here today by plane to New York and proceed to Columbus on a flight arriving in the Ohio capital at 8:25 p.m. EST.

Most of the 55-member trade promotion group planned to move on to their last stop, Lisbon, Saturday, rounding out a Western European trip that began Nov. 1.

But Rhodes said he was returning ahead of them "because of some important matters now under study at home."

State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach is going with him.

Here in Spain, the governor said the mission by Thursday had conferred with more than 100 Spanish industrialists, financiers and businessmen.

"Now we only trade furniture, wine and some minerals with Spain," he said. "I am sure there must be more products we could exchange."

The governor expressed optimism as to the results here and from preceding visits to England, Holland, Belgium, West Germany and Italy.

He said that due to the tour "we hope to sell more Ohio products, including cars, computers and Toledo-made glassware, as well as import more European items."

'Operation Christmas Star'

Air National Guards Fly Yule Gifts To GIs In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of Air National Guardsmen—most of them weekend fliers—have a 10-day trip in their future. They're going to fly Christmas gifts to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

Volunteer National Guard crews of nine men each will fly an estimated 75 missions to Viet Nam in the next month, carrying cookies, cakes, candy and mail.

The first of the flights left Nashville, Tenn., Thursday, with 4,500 pounds of home-baked cookies. A few hours later, the plane picked up another 5,000 pounds of Christmas gifts at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, Tex. Then it headed west for the 11,000-mile trip to South Viet Nam.

The cookie-laden transport was the first plane of "Operation Christmas Star," a program designed to make sure that Christmas gets to Viet Nam this year.

The airlift was devised after officials realized that Americans — anxious to show their support for U.S. servicemen overseas — were volunteering more Christmas gifts than normal Air Force transportation could handle.

At the urging of several congressmen, including Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., Defense Department officials gave approval to the operation.

The call then went out for volunteers to man the huge C97 stratocruisers needed to haul the staggering array of Christmas goods. In Pennsylvania alone, more than 75 tons of baked goods are being prepared for overseas distribution.

And from California to New York, the volunteers came.

"We had a spontaneous reaction to this thing," said Col. Paul Hughes of Pleasantville, N.Y., executive officer of New York's Air National Guard.

"This particular operation typifies the feeling of the average reservist," Hughes added. "We look forward to the opportunity to help the majority of the American people express their support of the men in Viet Nam."

The New York group plans to make nine flights to Viet Nam between now and Christmas.

Red Missile Power Seen Topping U.S.

LONDON (AP) — The Institute of Strategic Studies said Thursday the Soviet Union now has strategic nuclear missiles with far greater killing power than anything in the United States arsenal.

The institute also said, in its annual review of world military power, that the Russians reduced the American lead in numbers of strategic missiles by 25 per cent during 1965.

The institute is a private international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament. It has an international council drawn from 13 countries, with research associates in Britain, Canada, West Germany, India and the United States. Its information is drawn from many sources, including British service attaches in embassies around the world.

The review, published today, suggested the Warsaw Pact powers are paying a lot less money for their military power than the Western Alliance nations.

Beaver Creek State Park's Work Slated

LISBON — Expansion and development of Beaver Creek State Park is scheduled to begin in the first half of 1966, according to Melvin Rebholz, chief of the Ohio Division of Parks and Recreation.

He spoke and answered questions Thursday night for the members of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council in St. George parish hall here. Fifty attended the meeting.

Rebholz said $460,000 is available to the county for acquisition of land and development of the park, during this biennium which began last July 1. He said the division also plans work this biennium at Guilford Lake and Zepernick Park, both state parks on Route 172 in the west part of the county.

He said the proposed Highlandtown dam in the southern part of the county is under the Division of Wildlife, so he was not prepared to report on that particular project.

Once Highlandtown Lake is completed, Columbiana County will have four state recreation areas, he pointed out, and remarked that he knows of no other Ohio county with as many.

Steve Barborak of West Point, vice president, was in charge. The next meeting will be Jan. 27, with no meeting scheduled for December.

Auditor Files Report

Wellsville Fund 'Errors' Bared

Delays in distributing funds totaling $3,129 by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville and failure to pay certain state funds on time were reported in a summary of a special audit of the mayor's records released this week.

The report, however, pointed out the distributions and funds were paid subsequently by the mayor.

THE AUDIT, which covered the period July 1, 1964, to July 31, 1965, showed errors for adjustment against Mayor Daugherty in favor of the City of Wellsville totaling $3,129.

Deposits subsequently were made by the mayor to correct these errors, according to the report.

There was also $313 owed the state of Ohio by the mayor's office for fines and forfeitures in Highway Patrol cases, which the mayor later said had been paid after the audit period.

A sum of $102 owed from patrol cases to the Columbiana County Law Library Association also was reported, and apparently paid later.

The state examiner said when he arrived at the City Hall Aug. 2 for the special audit he was unable to promptly count the cash in the hands of the mayor because of his absence. A cash count was made on collections by the police department.

"Efforts were made without results to contact the mayor until 1:30 p.m. when cash and checks were exhibited by the mayor for making a count," the report reads.

The amount turned over was $2,866 in cash and checks and $379 in parking tickets, meter tickets and arrest bonds.

"During the examination, the mayor said he had failed to mail various checks to the state treasurer, but had mailed them on or about Aug. 5," the report stated.

THE REPORT indicated the mayor deposited into the city

Mrs. Mary Rahter Dies; Services Will Be Sunday

Mrs. Rahter, who served as president for five terms, was the first woman to hold that office in the history of Wellsville.

Mrs. Rahter was scheduled to leave the Council presidency Dec. 31 at the end of her tenure. In Wellsville's Democratic primary last May, she ran for the nomination for mayor, but lost to the incumbent, William Daugherty.

No 1968 Bid For President, Rhodes Says

Points Out His Job Is To Carry Out Obligation To Ohio

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—No, answered Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes to the '68 question. Not for now, anyhow.

Interviewers took note of published reports the governor might become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. They asked him about this.

Rhodes gave his standard answer: "Right now my job is to carry out to the best of my ability my obligation to the 11 million residents of Ohio.

"At the moment, I have no other undertakings."

Speculation in Ohio is that the governor will announce as a candidate for re-election soon after he returns there tonight from his tour with a Buckeye trade mission.

Rhodes planned to leave here today by plane to New York and proceed to Columbus on a flight arriving in the Ohio capital at 8:25 p.m. EST.

Most of the 55-member trade promotion group planned to move on to their last stop, Lisbon, Saturday, rounding out a Western European trip that began Nov. 1.

But Rhodes said he was returning ahead of them "because of some important matters now under study at home."

State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach is going with him.

Here in Spain, the governor said the mission by Thursday had conferred with more than 100 Spanish industrialists, financiers and businessmen.

"Now we only trade furniture, wine and some minerals with Spain," he said. "I am sure there must be more products we could exchange."

The governor expressed optimism as to the results here and from preceding visits to England, Holland, Belgium, West Germany and Italy.

He said that due to the tour "we hope to sell more Ohio products, including cars, computers and Toledo-made glassware, as well as import more European items."

Former Vice President Dies

Johnson Leads Tributes To Henry A. Wallace, 77

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — President Johnson led the tributes today to Henry A. Wallace, whose controversial views he said came from "a deep sense of social justice."

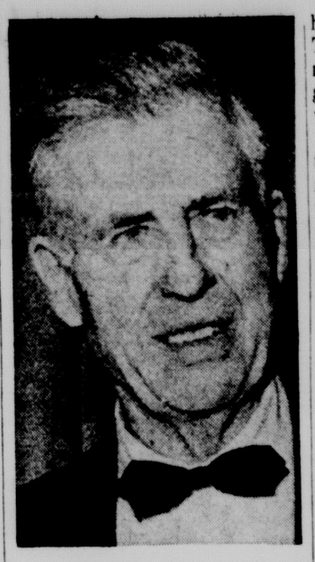

The former New Deal Cabinet member, vice president and third party candidate for president died Thursday of lateral sclerosis. He was 77.

From across the country national figures eulogized Wallace, whose sense of crusade and controversial ideas helped block him from the White House.

President Johnson said: "The death of Henry A. Wallace stills an original American voice. He always spoke his mind — and always from a deep sense of social justice. His views may not always have been popular, but they were always sincere.

"I consider him a good man and a good public servant. His country will miss him."

Former President Harry S. Truman said, "I'm sorry as I can be. Henry was an asset to the country."

HENRY A. WALLACE
Funeral To Be Saturday.

Wallace had been President Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president, but in 1944 his renomination was blocked by old-line Democratic chiefs, Southerners and others. Truman was nominated and, when Roosevelt died in 1945, he became president.

At the time of Roosevelt's death Wallace was secretary of commerce, but his ventures into foreign policy led to a clash with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. Truman backed Byrnes and fired Wallace.

Wallace advocated a softer line with the Soviet Union, while Byrnes' policy was one of firmness.

Later, however, Wallace changed his mind about Soviet communism, and was to warn of the danger of Red China to both the United States and the Soviet Union.

In the 1948 election Wallace ran for president as the Progressive party candidate in hopes of assuring the defeat of Truman by the Republican nominee, Thomas E. Dewey. He got 1,156,103 votes but Truman was elected.

Afterwards, Wallace retired to Farvue, a 115-acre hilltop farm at South Salem, N.Y., where he worked to improve the egg-yield of chickens, to grow better strawberries and develop gladiola with a stronger resistance to cold.

Wallace, born Oct. 7, 1888, on a farm in Adair County, Iowa, had made his first mark as a plant expert and the developer of hybrid corn. His father had been secretary of agriculture in the Harding and Coolidge administrations and it was in this post that the son joined the Cabinet of President Roosevelt in 1933. He later changed his registration from Republican to Democrat.

With him at the time of his death were Mrs. Wallace, the former Ilo Browne, and his sister, Mary Bruggmann of Switzerland.

A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at Ridgefield, Conn., Cremation will be at Grace Cemetery, Bridgeport, Conn., and the ashes will be interred Monday at Woodland Cemetery in Des Moines, Iowa.

In addition to the widow, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Leslie Douglas of Washington, Henry B. Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, and Robert B. Wallace of Doylestown, Pa.; 12 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Bruggmann, Ruth Wijkmann of Des Moines, and Annabell McLay of Birmingham, Mich.; and two brothers, John B. Wallace of St. Petersburg, Fla., and James W. Wallace of Des Moines.

Court Orders Driver Jailed

Willis Plumm, 56, of 347 Commerce St., Wellsville, was sentenced to five days in City Jail when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff also fined Plumm $200 and costs and suspended his driver's license for 90 days. Plumm pleaded guilty through his counsel, William Bush of Wellsville, who then entered a plea in mitigation.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick told the court he cited Plumm Nov. 11 after his car collided with two parked autos on Pennsylvania Ave.

Judge Chertoff ordered a 45-day suspension in the operator's permit of Mrs. Lynda Lou Bowersock, 19, of Lisbon R.D. 2, who pleaded guilty to a State Highway Patrol charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone Monday on Route 30. The court said she will be permitted to use her license during the suspension period only to drive to and from her job at Wellsville.

Dale K. Moore of Wheeling forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. He was cited Thursday at 6:45 p.m. by the patrol.

Ruth Ellen Calhoun of 205 Beechwood St., arrested at the same time on the same stretch for the same alleged violation, is due for a hearing Tuesday.

The Agfa-Siemens traffic camera, used in Frankfurt, Germany, is connected to a mechanical switch which trips the shutter whenever a car enters the intersection when the traffic light is red. One camera in Frankfurt produced 25,000 pictures of traffic offenders, identified by their licenses, in its first year of operation.

Gosney Asks For Training In Patriotism

The rash of draft card burnings and other protests against U. S. policy in Southeast Asia is proof that American youth needs better indoctrination in patriotism and the processes of free government, Don R. Gosney, county Democratic chairman, declared Thursday night in an address to the Columbiana Village Democratic Club.

"Why have we failed to make these youngsters understand that this is the greatest nation in the world, with the highest standard of living and the greatest guarantees of equality and justice?" Gosney asked. "Every foreign nation has hundreds or thousands of would - be immigrants, some of whom have waited for years to come here and share the benefits of this great nation."

Gosney declared that the holiday riots last summer in some resort towns showed that young people "do not have any respect for law and order."

"The men and women of my generation learned patriotism and love of country at their mother's knee," Gosney said. "It would have been unthinkable for us to tear up a draft card in open defiance of the government or hurl a stone at a policeman."

Schools, parents and public information media should join forces to help teach patriotism to the younger generations, emphasizing the positive forces and laying less stress on the negative, Gosney said.

"They need to know how our government works and to realize that public service is honorable, whether at any level of government or in the armed forces," Gosney said.

"Constructive criticism is good and I would be the last to disagree with a person's right to express an opinion, but I feel some of our modern youth have been misinformed or not informed at all about the basic precepts of Americanism that we all thought were taken for granted," Gosney declared.

Monaca Family Routed By Blaze

MONACA — A family of 10 was driven from its home here Thursday night when defective wiring set fire to the roof of a two-story wood frame house.

The Monaca Fire Department answered a call to the John W. O'Keefe residence at 698 Indiana Ave. at 6:55 after a neighbor noticed smoke pouring from the roof.

Damage was estimated at more than $5.000.

O'Keefe and his family are staying with friends and relatives.

Firemen Are Called In Auto Blast, Fire

Firemen today puzzled over the cause of an East End auto fire Thursday afternoon which they said apparently resulted from a match being dropped into the gasoline tank.

In reporting the fire that blew off the gas tank and burned the back seat and tire of a 1957 auto owned by Richard Pack of 2015 Harvey Ave., firemen said it "appeared" that a match had been dropped into the tank.

The East End truck responded to the alarm at 12:17 p. m. and remained at the scene for 27 minutes.

Meters Will Go Yule, But Still Must Be Fed

Parking meter standards in Wellsville will take on a Christmas effect, the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce decided at a membership meeting Thursday night.

Along with its usual street decoration program, the Chamber agreed to decorate the standards by wrapping them in a candy cane design.

Just as a warning, the meters will remain in operation.

Schools, parents and public information media should join forces to help teach patriotism to the younger generations, emphasizing the positive forces and laying less stress on the negative, Gosney said.

"They need to know how our government works and to realize that public service is honorable, whether at any level of government or in the armed forces," Gosney said.

"Constructive criticism is good and I would be the last to disagree with a person's right to express an opinion, but I feel some of our modern youth have been misinformed or not informed at all about the basic precepts of Americanism that we all thought were taken for granted," Gosney declared.

Monaca Family Routed By Blaze

MONACA — A family of 10 was driven from its home here Thursday night when defective wiring set fire to the roof of a two-story wood frame house.

The Monaca Fire Department answered a call to the John W. O'Keefe residence at 698 Indiana Ave. at 6:55 after a neighbor noticed smoke pouring from the roof.

Damage was estimated at more than $5,000.

O'Keefe and his family are staying with friends and relatives.

Firemen Are Called In Auto Blast, Fire

Firemen today puzzled over the cause of an East End auto fire Thursday afternoon which they said apparently resulted from a match being dropped into the gasoline tank.

In reporting the fire that blew off the gas tank and burned the back seat and tire of a 1957 auto owned by Richard Pack of 2015 Harvey Ave., firemen said it "appeared" that a match had been dropped into the tank.

The East End truck responded to the alarm at 12:17 p. m. and remained at the scene for 27 minutes.

Meters Will Go Yule, But Still Must Be Fed

Parking meter standards in Wellsville will take on a Christmas effect, the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce decided at a membership meeting Thursday night.

Along with its usual street decoration program, the Chamber agreed to decorate the standards by wrapping them in a candy cane design.

Just as a warning, the meters will remain in operation.

Hire Neighbor Boy To Do The Job!

Among the tragic aspects of cold weather is the toll that snow shoveling exacts each year. With the first heavy fall due momentarily, it's time to think of preventive action.

The Heart Association of Eastern Ohio, which serves the East Liverpool area, has conducted tests on the effects of snow shoveling on the heart in the 45-to-75 age group. An electrocardiograph machine makes it quite clear that the danger is there from increasing strain.

To help minimize this danger, the Heart Association offers the following advice:

If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval.

If you are over 40 and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow-shoveling is strenuous exercise and can kick back at the heart of a person who is unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain on the heart.

It's better to shovel before eating or wait an hour after eating, as you should for most vigorous exercise. And don't smoke while working; tobacco causes constriction of the blood vessels, just as cold air does. The combination can be dangerous.

Never shovel to the point of exhaustion. Don't let the invigorating air or a warming shot of whisky fool you.

Dress warmly in loose, comfortable heavy clothing, muffling ears and throat, keeping hands and feet dry.

When you shovel, lift with your entire body (each shovelful of dry snow weighs four pounds plus the weight of the shovel; wet snow is much heavier). Let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms.

If you become breathless, rest until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit.

Last, and probably, the best word of advice: hire the neighbor's boy to do the job for you.

The Spirit Glows

With Thanksgiving close at hand and Christmas just around the corner, it's time again for good deeds and helping hands as the spirit of the season prevails.

The Review's news columns indicate that the needy won't go wanting. Each day brings stories that this group and that group are preparing to aid the less fortunate here and in neighboring communities. The preparations are taking various forms — from jam-packed Yule baskets to warm clothing.

It brings a warm glow. At no time of the year is the spirit of giving more in evidence than from now until Christmas. As we have commented in the past, it's too bad the feeling can't be with us the year 'round, but, human nature being what it is, that would be too much to expect.

Let's just be thankful instead that so many are pitching in now to do so many nice things for so many others.

May the generosities, the kindnesses and the concern for our fellow men at this time of the year more than make up for the disinterest that marks our daily lives too often in the months that precede.

That Was Henry A. Wallace

The historic oddity about Henry A. Wallace's career in public life was the fact he was one heart-beat from the U.S. presidency for four years yet was a world apart from the mainstream of public thought.

His death, coming after years of obscurity beginning with his leadership of something called the Progressive party in the 1948 presidential campaign, is a puzzling echo from an era that defied understanding at the time.

How did this cloudy dreamer of ideologies become entrenched in the New Deal so solidly he became Franklin Roosevelt's third-term running mate? How did a man whose Progressive party platform in 1948 read like a prospectus for political revolution poll more than a million votes — almost as many as Strom Thurmond, running at the other end of the spectrum in a vain attempt to scuttle Harry Truman's candidacy?

WHAT AMALGAM of political circumstances produced this puzzlling mixture of agricultural scientist and political romanticist at a time when millions of restless Americans were capable of believing anything they were told by anyone they believed to be out of step with the past?

Henry Wallace was an utterly engaging individual; men of his romantic set of mind usually are. When he was hustling votes for the Roosevelt candidacy in 1940 he actually hitchhiked from one speaking engagement to the next. In each city he stopped in, he asked volunteers to take him to the next stop. No one else could have got away with it, except this political Johnny Appleseed.

Never has there been a more incongruous figure in a high place than he was in his three federal positions - secretary of agriculture, secretary of commerce and vice president. Everything he did and said, everything he stood for, cut across the grain of prevailing practice and conventional wisdom.

BY THE TIME of the Democratic nominating convention in 1944, with President Roosevelt's health failing, Mr. Wallace's time in the political sun had expired.

He was supplanted by Harry Truman, the embodiment of machine politics. Thus it was that Mr. Truman, not Mr. Wallace, became president on that shattering April day in 1945 when President Roosevelt died.

It is hard today for anyone to understand how it happened. It wasn't easy to understand it then, either.

As time passed it wasn't easy to believe Henry A. Wallace ever really happened in U.S. politics. Everything about him was highly improbable.

His death at 77 is a jolting reminder that time is gaining on all of us.

New Baseball Commissioner

Baseball's status as the national game makes choice of a new baseball commissioner a national concern.

William D. Eckert, the new commissioner, now takes his place as a trustee of popular faith in sports as well as the chief authority of a business that has had its ups and downs and is still on a bumpy road.

It is significant under the circumstances that the baseball owners have given him an executive assistant in the person of Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles. The new commissioner is a retired Air Force general. The job has been split in two.

It will be the joint responsibility of the two men and the club owners to maintain confidence in professional baseball while maintaining those business aspects of the great American game that it depends on to keep it going.

Professional baseball always has teetered on the edge of outright commercialism, without plunging into the abyss of profit only. It has taken a U.S. Supreme Court decision to draw the fine line between sport and profit and the line was so fine that some of baseball's owners can't see it.

But they must be kept from losing sight of it entirely.

If the U.S. public ever quits thinking of its baseball players as sportsmen, something priceless will have gone out of baseball. If it ever begins to think of baseball owners as single-minded entrepreneurs in pursuit of a fast buck, which is what some of them have looked like lately, a precious image will have been shattered.

Messrs. Eckert and MacPhail have their work cut out for them.

Everything Worth Knowing

By Truman Twill

How about three cheers for the dean of students at the University of Minnesota who says students who don't care enough to be "revolting" are the ones we should worry about?

No? You don't think Edmund G. Williamson should say such a thing?

Students who march up and down in favor of things you disapprove of give you the meemies?

You wish students would be the way you were — 100 per cent safe as far as pursuing ideas was concerned?

Or if you never made it to college, are you scared witless and made frothing mad by these young punks and their girl companions who stir up trouble and keep decent folk from living it up in the Great Society?

It is your privilege to think this way. But before condemning all who don't think the same way, read some of the rest of Dean Williamson's remarks at the annual convention of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges:

"Apathy is a much more serious problem than the violence of the minority splinter groups."

"On every campus the largest percentage of students are those who couldn't care less; who put their quarter in the vending machine, get their hot dog and go home; who never join the university."

"The great unsolved problem is that people don't care enough to be involved in controversy."

Higher education is development of reasoning power, or it is nothing.

Certainly it is more exalted than the human equivalent of a K-9 College where dogs are taught conditioned reflexes. Unless it has something to do with free inquiry and the option of exercising trial and error in pursuit of truth, there is nothing more to it than training animals.

Perhaps that is one kind of college education—advanced vocational training.

But there is another kind, the kind Dean Williamson of the University of Minnesota was talking about when he wished more students could be snapped out of their apathy.

Reasoning power and the ability to take positions, even wrong ones, are progressive. They can be developed. Educable people learn how to reason by reasoning, not by swallowing whole what someone else wants them to believe. They accept and reject. Gradually, they fumble and stumble toward the thing they're seeking.

You still don't want to give three cheers for an educator who feels good about students who wave their arms and raise their voices insead of dying on the vine without ever having lived?

It depends on what you think education is — readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic, or Reasoning, Rationalizing and (if it seems like a good idea) Revolting. That's how we learned everything worth knowing—by the three Big R's.

He Keeps On Shouting Regardless

Peace Tangle Over Viet Nam

By David Wise

"I have presented certain ideas on my own to some of the principal parties directly involved in the question of Viet Nam. I have even presented concrete ideas and proposals . . ."

—United Nations Secretary General U THANT Feb. 24, 1965.

"The President has received no proposal from U Thant."

—GEORGE REEDY, White House Press Secretary, Feb. 25, 1965.

"Q. Did U Thant in late summer and-or fall of 1964 on one or more occasions advise the U.S. government that the North Vietnamese government was prepared for talks of some kind?

"A. Yes."

—ROBERT J. McCLOSKEY, State Department Spokesman, Nov. 15, 1965.

If those three quotations seem contradictory, it is because they are.

Taken together, they amount to a superb illustration of the art of technical denial, which is widely practiced in Washington under President Johnson, as it was by his recent predesessors. Behind the words of the UN secretary general, the then White House press secretary and the official State Department spokesman lies a fascinating story.

It began a year ago probably sometime in September 1964, when the UN secretary general took Ambassador Adlai Stevenson aside and told him he had obtained the agreement of the Hanoi government to meet with a representative of the United States government on neutral territory. Thant said this could take place in Rangoon, in his native Burma.

Precisely what Stevenson replied, or what Washington said is not a matter of public record but it is now clear that the offer for quiet peace talks was rejected by the Johnson administration.

AS McCLOSKEY put it on Nov. 15, "all our indications were that there was no serious intent on the other side. We saw nothing to indicate that Hanoi was prepared for peace talks, and the secretary of state said he would recognize it when it came along. His antenna is sensitive."

There is evidence Thant waited some four weeks after his initial chat with Ambassador Stevenson, hoping for a favorable reply, which never came.

In the meantime, President Johnson was in the midst of the presidential election campaign against Sen. Barry Goldwatern the Republican nominee, an advocate of total victory in Viet Nam.

Three days before election, on Oct. 31, Viet Cong attacked the U.S. air base at Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam, killing four Americans and wounding 72. The attack caught President Johnson at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, ready to wind up his campaign with a monster rally at Madison Square Garden.

THAT DISASTER led to speculation in Washington that the U.S. would retaliate with raids against North Viet Nam. There is further evidence that the Oct. 31 attack was in fact the event that led to the Presidents decision to bomb the North, even though that policy was not put into effect until February of this year, after the attack on Pleiku. The American decision to retaliate was conveyed to the British in November, 1964, and came as no surprise to London when it occurred.

Meanwhile Thant was awaiting a reply from Mr. Stevenson. In subsequent discussion on other UN matters, the secretary general, it is believed, asked the U.S. ambassador what was happening to his Rangoon proposal. Stevenson is believed to have replied he was pressing Washington for an answer, but was still waiting. Finally, around November, 1964, Thant got his answer from Stevenson: No.

On Feb. 24 of this year, soon after the U.S. had begun bombing North Vietnamese strategic military targets Thant held his press conference in New York in which he said he had presented "concrete ideas and proposals" to the parties involved in Viet Nam. It seems reasonably clear, in perspective, that he was referring, among other matters, to his talk with Mr. Stevenson, and the proposal for the Rangoon conversations.

ON THE SAME DAY that Mr. Thant made his press conference statements, Reedy said at the White House: "I know of no specific proposal for a negotiation that has been made." He said also: "I'm not going into any diplomatic chitchat that may be going forth, or wavout feelers, but authorized or meaningful negotiations — no."

The New York Herald Tribune on Feb. 25 reported that Thant and Stevenson had discussed a possible peace conversation in Rangoon. But the White House repeated its firm denial. Said Reedy: "The President has received no proposal from U Thant."

Reedy added: "Whoever Mr. Thant may have contacted would be outside the White House."

"Wouldn't these people . . . have some obligation to report to the President?" he was asked.

"I stand on my statement . . . the President has not received any proposals from U Thant," Reedy replied.

That is where matters stood until Aug. 8 when Darius S. Jhabvala, Herald Tribune News Services's UN correspondent, reported in great detail the U.S. rejection of the peace talk offer the previous fall. Although the story did not name Thant, it said the proposal came from a 'non-Communist Asian diplomat."

THE JOHNSON administration declined to comment publicly on the Herald Tribune story, but sought in background comment to minimize the importance of the peace contact and to deny that the election had anything to do with the U.S. position.

That is where matters stood until last Monday when CBS newsman Eric Sevareid, writing in Look magazine, told the story in new detail, based on an interview he had with Stevenson two days before he collapsed on a London street and died. It was Sevareid's article that finally forced the State Department to confirm what had been denied so strongly for so long.

Camouflage Hampers Americans

SAIGON

The Viet Cong guerrillas' camouflaged tunnels and foxholes represent one of the greatest tactical problems of U.S. combat units.

Low-ranking American field officers indicate that some are camouflaged so well that U.S. units walk past them and then are shot in the back.

In the heralded "Operation Starlight," conducted near Chu Lai by 5,000 U.S. Marines in August, an estimated 75 per cent of the U.S. casualties were shot in the back, according to the commanding general.

During past engagements, the Viet Cong, heavily armed with mortars and recoiless rifles, have been able to rain in fire from their foxholes and tunnels on advancing American units.

In the Communist - controlled area of the countryside, the Viet Cong have constructed "combat hamlets." Each village perimeter is protected by a series of tunnels. Within the village each home is equipped with air-raid bunkers. Footpaths in the village are dotted with mine or traps of steel spikes. Village fences and gates are fused with explosives.

THE VILLAGERS know how to avoid the dangers; advancing Vietnamese or American units do not.

On occasions, U. S. commanders have used smoke grenades and tear gas pumped through a blower to counter the Communists' use of tunnels, but these techniques have not been effective.

"I fly over this terrain every day," one American helicopter pilot based in the Da Nang said. "One day I see a tunnel about 50 meters long; the next day I fly over that same area and that tunnel has been covered with logs, grass and mud and another 50-meter extension has been built. These tunnels may all lead to Da Nang."

Viet Cong defectors have reported that the guerrillas are digging a series of tunnels under Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, but attempts to locate them have proved unsuccessful for government officials.

During the nine-day siege of the Plei Me Special Forces camp, 18 miles from the Cambodia border, the guerrillas dug an intricate series of foxholes as close as 50 yards from the camp perimeter. The one-man holes viewed by this correspondent were about four feet deep and five feet wide. At the bottom there was a long niche for sleeping or for protection against U.S. bombings or mortar attacks.

"ONE OF OUR PATROLS overran a guerrilla bunker," explained Capt. Harold M. Moore of Pekin, Ill., the American detachment commander at the Plei Me. "The Communists had built a lot of foxholes and trenches, all leading into one bunker. This was only about one-quarter of a mile from our camp; from this bunker the Communists could see everything we were doing in our camp, but it was so well camouflaged we couldn't see them from our positions.

"The Communists had dug their holes and then covered the tops with mud, logs, dirt and weeds for protection. We couldn't even see the Communist positions only 30 meters from our camp; we could see tracers coming out of the weeds, but we couldn't see their foxholes.

A defector from a North Vietnamese army unit told this correspondent that the Communist cadre had recently issued orders to dig trenches deeper and narrower.

"Digging trenches is more important than eating," the defector said. "Even if we were hungry and tired, the first thing we had to do was to dig trenches.

"I remember one day my group arrived in one place, dug trenches for two hours, stayed there for an hour, then moved on to the second place and started digging again."

Hire Neighbor Boy To Do The Job!

Among the tragic aspects of cold weather is the toll that snow shoveling exacts each year. With the first heavy fall due momentarily, it's time to think of preventive action.

Certainly it is more exalted than the human equivalent of a K-9 College where dogs are taught conditioned reflexes. Unless it has something to do with free inquiry and the option of exercising trial and error in pursuit of truth, there is nothing more to it than training animals.

Perhaps that is one kind of college education—advanced vocational training.

But there is another kind, the kind Dean Williamson of the University of Minnesota was talking about when he wished more students could be snapped out of their apathy.

Reasoning power and the ability to take positions, even wrong ones, are progressive. They can be developed. Educable people learn how to reason by reasoning, not by swallowing whole what someone else wants them to believe. They accept and reject. Gradually, they fumble and stumble toward the thing they're seeking.

You still don't want to give three cheers for an educator who feels good about students who wave their arms and raise their voices insead of dying on the vine without ever having lived?

It depends on what you think education is — readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic, or Reasoning, Rationalizing and (if it seems like a good idea) Revolting. That's how we learned everything worth knowing—by the three Big R's.

The first U. S. presidential campaign in which television was used was that between Herbert Hoover and Al Smith. On Aug. 22, 1928, Smith's nomination notification ceremonies were transmitted by television from Albany to Schenectady, N. Y.

No original manuscript of the Bible is in existence, nor is it definitely known what became of them. For centuries, hand - made copies of the Bible were written by monks in monasteries and to them the world is indebted for the preservation of the Scriptures.

Peace Tangle Over Viet Nam

By David Wise

"I have presented certain ideas on my own to some of the principal parties directly involved in the question of Viet Nam. I have even presented concrete ideas and proposals . . ."

—United Nations Secretary General U THANT Feb. 24, 1965.

"The President has received no proposal from U Thant."

—GEORGE REEDY, White House Press Secretary, Feb. 25, 1965.

"Q. Did U Thant in late summer and-or fall of 1964 on one or more occasions advise the U.S. government that the North Vietnamese government was prepared for talks of some kind?

"A. Yes."

—ROBERT J. McCLOSKEY, State Department Spokesman, Nov. 15, 1965.

If those three quotations seem contradictory, it is because they are.

Taken together, they amount to a superb illustration of the art of technical denial, which is widely practiced in Washington under President Johnson, as it was by his recent predesessors. Behind the words of the UN secretary general, the then White House press secretary and the official State Department spokesman lies a fascinating story.

It began a year ago probably sometime in September 1964, when the UN secretary general took Ambassador Adlai Stevenson aside and told him he had obtained the agreement of the Hanoi government to meet with a representative of the United States government on neutral territory. Thant said this could take place in Rangoon, in his native Burma.

Precisely what Stevenson replied, or what Washington said is not a matter of public record but it is now clear that the offer for quiet peace talks was rejected by the Johnson administration.

AS McCLOSKEY put it on Nov. 15, "all our indications were that there was no serious intent on the other side. We saw nothing to indicate that Hanoi was prepared for peace talks, and the secretary of state said he would recognize it when it came along. His antenna is sensitive."

There is evidence Thant waited some four weeks after his initial chat with Ambassador Stevenson, hoping for a favorable reply, which never came.

In the meantime, President Johnson was in the midst of the presidential election campaign against Sen. Barry Goldwatern the Republican nominee, an advocate of total victory in Viet Nam.

Three days before election, on Oct. 31, Viet Cong attacked the U.S. air base at Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam, killing four Americans and wounding 72. The attack caught President Johnson at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, ready to wind up his campaign with a monster rally at Madison Square Garden.

THAT DISASTER led to speculation in Washington that the U.S. would retaliate with raids against North Viet Nam. There is further evidence that the Oct. 31 attack was in fact the event that led to the Presidents decision to bomb the North, even though that policy was not put into effect until February of this year, after the attack on Pleiku. The American decision to retaliate was conveyed to the British in November, 1964, and came as no surprise to London when it occurred.

Meanwhile Thant was awaiting a reply from Mr. Stevenson. In subsequent discussion on other UN matters, the secretary general, it is believed, asked the U.S. ambassador what was happening to his Rangoon proposal. Stevenson is believed to have replied he was pressing Washington for an answer, but was still waiting. Finally, around November, 1964, Thant got his answer from Stevenson: No.

On Feb. 24 of this year, soon after the U.S. had begun bombing North Vietnamese strategic military targets Thant held his press conference in New York in which he said he had presented "concrete ideas and proposals" to the parties involved in Viet Nam. It seems reasonably clear, in perspective, that he was referring, among other matters, to his talk with Mr. Stevenson, and the proposal for the Rangoon conversations.

ON THE SAME DAY that Mr. Thant made his press conference statements, Reedy said at the White House: "I know of no specific proposal for a negotiation that has been made." He said also: "I'm not going into any diplomatic chitchat that may be going forth, or wav-out feelers, but authorized or meaningful negotiations — no."

The New York Herald Tribune on Feb. 25 reported that Thant and Stevenson had discussed a possible peace conversation in Rangoon. But the White House repeated its firm denial. Said Reedy: "The President has received no proposal from U Thant."

Reedy added: "Whoever Mr. Thant may have contacted would be outside the White House."

"Wouldn't these people . . . have some obligation to report to the President?" he was asked.

"I stand on my statement . . . the President has not received any proposals from U Thant," Reedy replied.

That is where matters stood until Aug. 8 when Darius S. Jhabvala, Herald Tribune News Services's UN correspondent, reported in great detail the U.S. rejection of the peace talk offer the previous fall. Although the story did not name Thant, it said the proposal came from a 'non-Communist Asian diplomat."

THE JOHNSON administration declined to comment publicly on the Herald Tribune story, but sought in background comment to minimize the importance of the peace contact and to deny that the election had anything to do with the U.S. position.

That is where matters stood until last Monday when CBS newsman Eric Sevareid, writing in Look magazine, told the story in new detail, based on an interview he had with Stevenson two days before he collapsed on a London street and died. It was Sevareid's article that finally forced the State Department to confirm what had been denied so strongly for so long.

Camouflage Hampers Americans

SAIGON

The Viet Cong guerrillas' camouflaged tunnels and foxholes represent one of the greatest tactical problems of U.S. combat units.

Low-ranking American field officers indicate that some are camouflaged so well that U.S. units walk past them and then are shot in the back.

In the heralded "Operation Starlight," conducted near Chu Lai by 5,000 U.S. Marines in August, an estimated 75 per cent of the U.S. casualties were shot in the back, according to the commanding general.

During past engagements, the Viet Cong, heavily armed with mortars and recoiless rifles, have been able to rain in fire from their foxholes and tunnels on advancing American units.

In the Communist - controlled area of the countryside, the Viet Cong have constructed "combat hamlets." Each village perimeter is protected by a series of tunnels. Within the village each home is equipped with air-raid bunkers. Footpaths in the village are dotted with mine or traps of steel spikes. Village fences and gates are fused with explosives.

THE VILLAGERS know how to avoid the dangers; advancing Vietnamese or American units do not.

On occasions, U. S. commanders have used smoke grenades and tear gas pumped through a blower to counter the Communists' use of tunnels, but these techniques have not been effective.

"I fly over this terrain every day," one American helicopter pilot based in the Da Nang said. "One day I see a tunnel about 50 meters long; the next day I fly over that same area and that tunnel has been covered with logs, grass and mud and another 50-meter extension has been built. These tunnels may all lead to Da Nang."

Viet Cong defectors have reported that the guerrillas are digging a series of tunnels under Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, but attempts to locate them have proved unsuccessful for government officials.

During the nine-day siege of the Plei Me Special Forces camp, 18 miles from the Cambodia border, the guerrillas dug an intricate series of foxholes as close as 50 yards from the camp perimeter. The one-man holes viewed by this correspondent were about four feet deep and five feet wide. At the bottom there was a long niche for sleeping or for protection against U.S. bombings or mortar attacks.

"ONE OF OUR PATROLS overran a guerrilla bunker," explained Capt. Harold M. Moore of Pekin, Ill., the American detachment commander at the Plei Me. "The Communists had built a lot of foxholes and trenches, all leading into one bunker. This was only about one-quarter of a mile from our camp; from this bunker the Communists could see everything we were doing in our camp, but it was so well camouflaged we couldn't see them from our positions.

"The Communists had dug their holes and then covered the tops with mud, logs, dirt and weeds for protection. We couldn't even see the Communist positions only 30 meters from our camp; we could see tracers coming out of the weeds, but we couldn't see their foxholes.

A defector from a North Vietnamese army unit told this correspondent that the Communist cadre had recently issued orders to dig trenches deeper and narrower.

"Digging trenches is more important than eating," the defector said. "Even if we were hungry and tired, the first thing we had to do was to dig trenches.

"I remember one day my group arrived in one place, dug trenches for two hours, stayed there for an hour, then moved on to the second place and started digging again."

Meter Check Shows Some Off-Beat Data

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey came up with some interesting data today with a check on the revenue on meters on a new city parking lot, but it revealed more about human psychology than the functioning of the coin devices.

Vodrey commented that the $75.41 in receipts from the 22 meters on a lot on W. 5th St. near Jackson St. proved that some motorists do not read the instructions printed on the meter heads.

The collection showed 42 pennies, but the meters are built to accept only nickels, dimes or quarters. The pennies would have dropped through the mechanism without registering any time.

In a check on the comparative characteristics, there are 11 automatic meters on the west side of the new lot and 11 manual types on the east side.

The automatics brought in $38.05 and the manuals produced $37.36. That tended to show that the automatics brought in 69 cents more than the manuals.

But Vodrey conceded that it seems to prove primarily that most American drivers are right-handed and all things being equal they will turn to the right rather than the left when pulling onto a parking lot.

The automatics on the west side would be reached by a right turn when entering the lot from W. 5th St. It would require a left turn to pull into one of the spots governed by a manual meter.

The money was collected from the 22 meters this morning and counted in Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger's office by Vodrey, Zollinger and George Fone, City Hall custodian and meter collector.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Newspaperman John William Rogers, 71, author of "The Lusty Texans of Dallas," died Thursday. He was with the Dallas Times Herald for more than 15 years as book editor and critic.

Alert Mother Saves Son, 2

You are riding along in the dark in your station wagon about 40 miles an hour and suddenly your little boy falls out the door. You manage to grab his pants leg while screaming to your husband to stop the auto.

That's what happened to Mrs. Robert Laughlin of the Y. & O. Rd., along the road between Substation and Glenmoor about 7 p. m. Thursday when her 2-year-old son Robert fell from the front seat of the auto and was dragged several yards on his chest.

Mrs. Laughlin said she managed to grab the boy's trouser leg, but because of the darkness could not tell exactly what was happening.

She shouted to her husband, Robert C. Laughlin, who braked the station wagon and brought it to a stop. Mrs. Laughlin said she feared the boy was badly injured. He cried slightly when examined by his parents, but apparently had only abrasions of the chest and hands.

He was treated at City Hospital and released. Laughlin is a truck driver for Toms Express. The family was on the way home after Mrs. Laughlin had picked him up after work.

Chamber At Wellsville Gets Secretary, Office

The election of J. Marvin Hall, an investment representative, as a paid secretary and establishment of a Chamber of Commerce office on the second floor of the Perpetual Savings and Loan Co. building, 464 Main St., highlighted a membership meeting of the Wellsville Chamber Thursday night at the Carnegie Library.

Hall, who resides at 102 6th St. and was a Republican candidate for Council - at - large at the Nov. 2 election, will succeed William L. Bush, whose formal resignation effective Dec. 1 was submitted last night.

Bush earlier had indicated he wanted to resign, but agreed to continue while efforts were made to obtain a paid secretary.

Officers of the financial institution donated the office facilities. It is expected to be in operation by Dec. 1. Chamber business formerly had been transacted from Bush's law office in the old post office building.

The Chamber also scheduled its annual dinner meeting on Jan. 17. The place will be announced.

Fifteen attended the session, with John Bryer, president, presiding.

Nursing Home Operation Aired At Board's Session

Complaints about the operations of nursing homes were aired during the meeting of the Board of Health Thursday night at City Hall.

The board was advised that officials of the State Health Department had inspected four nursing homes here and found one in particular operating without a state license and in violation of state fire regulations.

According to reports, the nursing home has no fire extinguishers on its premises.

BOARD MEMBERS pointed out the local health department's control over nursing homes is limited to sanitary conditions and food handling procedures.

Any action to close down a nursing home operating illegally must come from the city fire department, state fire marshal's office or the State Health Department, board members explained.

The board also voted to raise the salary of Jack Bonner, sanitary police officer who also is serving as acting health commissioner, to $445 a month. It is the same amount the late Spetimus Cook received when he acted as commissioner.

Bonner's normal salary is $410 a month, plus car allowance. He will continue to receive the car allowance.

TWO VIOLATIONS were found among 22 milk samples checked as part of the 144 investigations he made, Bonner reported.

Chocolate milk from Cloverdale Dairy and homogenized and chocolate milk from Farmers Co-Op did not meet specifications, Bonner said. However, Farmers Co-Op was rechecked and now is approved, he added.

Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, said City Hospital and Osteopathic Hospital will be inspected by state officials on Nov. 29.

Mrs. Louella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 42 male and 40 female births in the city in the period from Oct. 21 to Nov. 18. During the same period, there were 21 male and 20 female deaths.

Miss Selma Ladzinski, health nurse, reported 176 cases investigated.

The board approved bills totaling $2,282, including $1,762 in salaries.

Besides Dr. Rugh and Bonner, others attending the meeting were Dr. C. M. Mayberry, C. Frank Dales and Paul Zehnder, board members; Mrs. Bevan, Miss Ladzinske and Ben Weber, newly - appointed sanitary officer. Mrs. Ila Finney Johnston, the fifth member of the board, was absent.

Youth Denies Check Count

Jacob Davis, 18, of E. 6th St. and Dresden Ave. entered a not guilty plea today in Municipal Court on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check, waived a preliminary hearing and asked to be bound over to the Grand Jury.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted the request after Davis signed a written waiver. He fixed the appearance bond at $1,000.

Davis is named in an affidavit signed by Mrs. Bernice Redick of Ravine St. alleging that he forged a $40 check on Nov. 6, signing her name against an account on the Potters Bank & Trust Co.

Davis appeared initially on Tuesday and his hearing was continued until today to allow him to obtain counsel. Davis said he had engaged an attorney and acted upon his advice, although the lawyer was not in court.

The judge set a hearing next Wednesday for Rodney Gilkinson of Substation, named in two affidavits alleging he "uttered or published" fraudulent checks.

One affidavit was signed by Glenn Gilkinson, charging that the defendant issued a fraudulent check for $34 on Nov. 1 on the Potters Bank account of the Valley Leasing Service of Sandyville, W. Va.

The other affidavit alleges that on Nov. 13 he issued a false or forged check for $62.55 on the account of the Springer Transfer & Storage Co., Inc., of Steubenville. The affidavit says the check was made payable to "cash" and signed with the name "Ray Springer." The affidavit was signed by Mrs. James Obenour.

$45,000 Ransom Paid

Kidnaped Youth Will Help Police

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Charles Hyde III planned to help authorities piece together likenesses today of the two men who kidnaped him for $45,000 ransom.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde Jr., was abducted early Thursday by two men and released unharmed after the father, head of a wholesale grocery company, paid the ransom.

After the boy was kidnaped while on the way to school, the father was notified by telephone to round up the money in $5, $10, $20, $100 and $1,000 bills.

Hyde drove to a supermarket parking lot as he was ordered, to wait for a call at a pay telephone booth, and while he was there the valise holding the bills was removed from his car.

Recalling the nine-hour nightmare, Charles said when his captors left him in the concrete waterfront building where he had been hidden, they told him they'd shoot him if he didn't stay at least 20 minutes.

Then he worked his hands loose from the tape which bound them and climbed about a half mile up a hill above the waterfront to the home of family friends.

Late Thursday at the sheriff's office, he and Pete Schultz, an officer who specializes in composing portraits of wanted men from a set of plastic pieces, tried to work out the visages of the two kidnapers. They planned to go on with their work today.

4 Pay Penalty On Overloads

Four district men paid $131.90 in fines and forfeits today in Municipal Court on charges of operating trucks with loads that exceeded the maximums allowed by state law.

Harold W. Barnes of 241 W. Washington St., Lisbon, and Charles F. Wright of Toronto R. D. 2 each forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond. Barnes was accused of hauling a cargo that was 1,090 pounds overweight and Wright was cited for a load that allegedly was 1,540 pounds over the maximum.

John P. Slater of Bergholz, accused of a 2,350-pound overload, was fined $28.50 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Clifford R. Garlock of Bloomingdale R. D. 2, charged with hauling a 3,240-pound overload, was fined $36.40 and costs. Both pleaded guilty.

The four were cited Nov. 10 on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol.

Meanwhile, Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $15 and costs on John J. Smith of R. D. 1, who was cited early Thursday on a charge of spilling part of a cargo of vitrified clay pipe from a truck along the River Rd. and E. and W. 3rd Sts.

Smith forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond yesterday, but the court ordered him haled before the bench on a capias to make certain that the city would be reimbursed for the expense of cleaning up the broken pipe.

Chan, Dawson Address Kiwanis

Cage Coach Praises Role Of Little Potters League

The role of the Little Potters Basketball Leagues in providing better players for East Liverpool High School was discussed by Frank Chan, high school coach, during a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Chan and Robert Dawson, assistant basketball coach, were introduced by Merrill Hall, former mayor and basketball mentor, at the meeting attended by 66 club members, Key Club youths and city officials.

The city administration members were guests of the Key Club youths, who served as acting city officials yesterday.

Chan traced the development of the junior high school level basketball leagues from 1959 and commended the various coaches who worked with the boys over the years.

He said the anticipated improvement of players was not realized immediately, but now, after seven years, the program is "beginning to pay off."

"With 177 youths, including 12 on the varsity and 15 on the reserves, playing basketball in East Liverpool, the task of finding five good starters is becoming easier," Chan declared.

"We have a very good group of sophomores coming up," he said, explaining it is difficult to analyze the team after only four days of practice.

Chan also discussed opponents on East Liverpool's schedule, commenting that it is rugged, with some of the best teams in the area to be faced.

Among the city officials attending the dinner were Mayor George Willshaw, Police Chief Americo Radeschi, Auditor Lawrence Zollinger, Safety-Service Director Robert Vodrey, Fire Chief Charles Bryan, Engineer George Bloomgren, Treasurer Bert Dawson, Water Department Supt. Harold Peterson and Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Dave Emmerling, Key Club president and "mayor" for the day, introduced the club members.

Alex Kidd, Kiwanis president, announced a Division 19 meeting will be held Dec. 1 at the hotel.

Ed Oliver was named vice president of the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department at a meeting Thursday night in the fire hall.

He will succeed J. C. Barmer, who resigned.

Ben Dudgeon was accepted as a new fireman on a six - month trial basis. The application of Joe Bennett was taken into consideration.

Chief George McDole was authorized to obtain an estimate on the cost of repainting the squad car, which was accidentally splattered with red paint.

Okey Leaisure Jr. was appointed steward of the Firemen's Club following the resignation of Howard Clendenning.

Clendenning, a trustee, presided in the absence of Jack Stover, president.

The next meeting will be Dec. 2 at 7 p.m.

If you like to grease baking pans with butter, clarify the butter and keep it tightly covered in the refrigerator to have on hand for this use. Through clarification, you gain a salt-free "oil" that tends to prevent baked products from sticking—and of course the clarified butter gives good flavor to the crusts of cookies, cakes and breads.

$45,000 Ransom Paid

Kidnaped Youth Will Help Police

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Charles Hyde III planned to help authorities piece together likenesses today of the two men who kidnaped him for $45,000 ransom.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde Jr., was abducted early Thursday by two men and released unharmed after the father, head of a wholesale grocery company, paid the ransom.

After the boy was kidnaped while on the way to school, the father was notified by telephone to round up the money in $5, $10, $20, $100 and $1,000 bills.

Hyde drove to a supermarket parking lot as he was ordered, to wait for a call at a pay telephone booth, and while he was there the valise holding the bills was removed from his car.

Recalling the nine-hour nightmare, Charles said when his captors left him in the concrete waterfront building where he had been hidden, they told him they'd shoot him if he didn't stay at least 20 minutes.

Then he worked his hands loose from the tape which bound them and climbed about a half mile up a hill above the waterfront to the home of family friends.

Late Thursday at the sheriff's office, he and Pete Schultz, an officer who specializes in composing portraits of wanted men from a set of plastic pieces, tried to work out the visages of the two kidnapers. They planned to go on with their work today.

4 Pay Penalty On Overloads

Four district men paid $131.90 in fines and forfeits today in Municipal Court on charges of operating trucks with loads that exceeded the maximums allowed by state law.

Harold W. Barnes of 241 W. Washington St., Lisbon, and Charles F. Wright of Toronto R. D. 2 each forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond. Barnes was accused of hauling a cargo that was 1,090 pounds overweight and Wright was cited for a load that allegedly was 1,540 pounds over the maximum.

John P. Slater of Bergholz, accused of a 2,350-pound overload, was fined $28.50 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Clifford R. Garlock of Bloomingdale R. D. 2, charged with hauling a 3,240-pound overload, was fined $36.40 and costs. Both pleaded guilty.

The four were cited Nov. 10 on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol.

Meanwhile, Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $15 and costs on John J. Smith of R. D. 1, who was cited early Thursday on a charge of spilling part of a cargo of vitrified clay pipe from a truck along the River Rd. and E. and W. 3rd Sts.

Salem Firm To Print Ballots For Southern Local Election

The Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem Thursday afternoon was awarded a contract by the County Election Board to furnish ballots for a special election Dec. 14 in the Southern Local School District for resubmission of two operating levies that were rejected at the general election Nov. 2.

Dodge Publishing bid $130.80 for furnishing ballots for the district's 13 precincts. The only other offer was filed by the Wellsville Publishing Co. of Wellsville, which bid $134.89.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, said the contractor will be furnished with ballot copy and asked to begin the job as soon as possible. The printer also will be asked to furnish absentee voters' ballots as soon as possible, although the absentees and the regular ballots probably will be delivered about the same date, he said.

HE POINTED out the Columbiana County Election Board will furnish ballots for the Brush Creek Precinct of the school district, which lies in Jefferson County. But the Jefferson County board will have the responsibility of furnishing poll books, renting a polling place and making other arrangements, he said.

The Columbiana County board previously awarded a contract to the Columbus Blank Book Co. to furnish the poll books on its bid of $17.50 per precinct.

O'Hanlon pointed out that the state law requires the Election Board to retain all marked ballots for 60 days after an election or for 60 days after a recount if a new tabulation is held. That means that the board will be required to remove the Southern Local ballots from the suitcases in which they were returned after the Nov. 2 election and find a safe storage place for them so that the same suitcases can be utilized for the special election, he explained.

The Southern Local school board petitioned for the special election on renewal of a 1.8-mill levy and a new 3-mill levy, both rejected by wide margins Nov. 2.

The 1.8-mill levy provides about $15,000 a year for operating funds. The 3-mill levy was designed to improve the teacher salary schedule.

—:—

MEANWHILE, O'Hanlon announced the Election Board collected $105 in all for the county's general fund from deposits posted by candidates who petitioned for recounts held Wednesday and Thursday on offices in Salem, Washington Township and Washingtonville.

At Salem, Frank Mason, the defeated Republican mayoralty aspirant, posted $230 at the rate of $10-per-precinct when filing for a recount of all 23 precincts in this race with Dean Cranmer, the Democratic incumbent.

However, he halted the recount after 15 precincts had been checked. The Election Board agreed to charge him the minimum prescribed by law, or $5 per precinct, which means the county will collect $75. The remaining $155 will be refunded.

In the Washington Township recount, Roy Edward Brammer, the petitioner, will receive a refund of $30 from the $50 he posted. There was no charge for one recounted precinct because it showed a change of 4 per cent or more in the applicant's vote. He will be charged $5 each for the other four precincts, which means he will receive a $30 refund.

In a Washingtonville mayoralty recount petitioned by William A. Radler, the board voted a charge of $10, since only one precinct was involved and the expense of the task exceeded the maximum charge allowed by law, O'Hanlon said.

Radler sought unsuccessfully to overturn the result of nonpartisan voting in which he was defeated by B. W. Snow, the incumbent.

Candy Sale Set By Students For Various Projects

A school - wide candy sale to provide funds for various projects will be launched Tuesday by East Liverpool High School students.

The candy sale, under the direction of Bert A. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth Connor, deans, will replace the magazine sale which the school sponsored for years. The magazine sale this year was conducted by the band and the Band Parents.

The candy sale goal is $6,000, with proceeds to be used to support the junior - senior prom, special assemblies, the visual education program and help cover the costs of the Sophomore Party and other activities.

The students will submit reports on the progress of the sale on Nov. 29, Dec. 1, Dec. 3 and Dec. 6, the final reporting day.

Awards of $5 in cash for the high salesmen and $3 for the runnersup will be made on each of the three reporting dates and other prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the sales.

A dance will be held for all students who make one sale.

A meeting of room secretaries to discuss details will be held Monday at 3:25 p.m. Candy will be distributed to the secretaries or their alternates on Tuesday by John Oughton, commercial teacher and his classes, who are in charge of distribution.

Olivito said the girl has been missing from her home in Minneapolis since March and was employed as a waitress in Steubenville.

Salem Firm To Print Ballots For Southern Local Election

The Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem Thursday afternoon was awarded a contract by the County Election Board to furnish ballots for a special election Dec. 14 in the Southern Local School District for resubmission of two operating levies that were rejected at the general election Nov. 2.

Dodge Publishing bid $130.80 for furnishing ballots for the district's 13 precincts. The only other offer was filed by the Wellsville Publishing Co. of Wellsville, which bid $134.89.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, said the contractor will be furnished with ballot copy and asked to begin the job as soon as possible. The printer also will be asked to furnish absentee voters' ballots as soon as possible, although the absentees and the regular ballots probably will be delivered about the same date, he said.

HE POINTED out the Columbiana County Election Board will furnish ballots for the Brush Creek Precinct of the school district, which lies in Jefferson County. But the Jefferson County board will have the responsibility of furnishing poll books, renting a polling place and making other arrangements, he said.

The Columbiana County board previously awarded a contract to the Columbus Blank Book Co. to furnish the poll books on its bid of $17.50 per precinct.

O'Hanlon pointed out that the state law requires the Election Board to retain all marked ballots for 60 days after an election or for 60 days after a recount if a new tabulation is held. That means that the board will be required to remove the Southern Local ballots from the suitcases in which they were returned after the Nov. 2 election and find a safe storage place for them so that the same suitcases can be utilized for the special election, he explained.

The Southern Local school board petitioned for the special election on renewal of a 1.8-mill levy and a new 3-mill levy, both rejected by wide margins Nov. 2.

The 1.8-mill levy provides about $15,000 a year for operating funds. The 3-mill levy was designed to improve the teacher salary schedule.

—:—

MEANWHILE, O'Hanlon announced the Election Board collected $105 in all for the county's general fund from deposits posted by candidates who petitioned for recounts held Wednesday and Thursday on offices in Salem, Washington Township and Washingtonville.

At Salem, Frank Mason, the defeated Republican mayoralty aspirant, posted $230 at the rate of $10-per-precinct when filing for a recount of all 23 precincts in this race with Dean Cranmer, the Democratic incumbent.

However, he halted the recount after 15 precincts had been checked. The Election Board agreed to charge him the minimum prescribed by law, or $5 per precinct, which means the county will collect $75. The remaining $155 will be refunded.

In the Washington Township recount, Roy Edward Brammer, the petitioner, will receive a refund of $30 from the $50 he posted. There was no charge for one recounted precinct because it showed a change of 4 per cent or more in the applicant's vote. He will be charged $5 each for the other four precincts, which means he will receive a $30 refund.

In a Washingtonville mayoralty recount petitioned by William A. Radler, the board voted a charge of $10, since only one precinct was involved and the expense of the task exceeded the maximum charge allowed by law, O'Hanlon said.

Radler sought unsuccessfully to overturn the result of nonpartisan voting in which he was defeated by B. W. Snow, the incumbent.

The students will submit reports on the progress of the sale on Nov. 29, Dec. 1, Dec. 3 and Dec. 6, the final reporting day.

Awards of $5 in cash for the high salesmen and $3 for the runnersup will be made on each of the three reporting dates and other prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the sales.

A dance will be held for all students who make one sale.

treasury on Aug. 3 a sum of $1,070 for March accounts, $714 for June accounts and $1,040 for May accounts. Collections of $341 for July 1965 were paid into the treasury Aug. 5, the report said.

It revealed the mayor had not during the audit period made monthly distribution of the funds as required by law.

"An analysis of the mayor's office bank accounts reveals collections were retained as cash on hand in his possession and not deposited in the bank at regular intervals. In some instances, considerable amounts of cash and checks were held in the office or in his possession for some time without deposit."

The report also added, "The mayor has been very lax in distributions of the state's share of patrol fines and forfeitures. There were no disbursements made to the state during the audit period." There was $313 owed to the state for such patrol cases and the mayor said he sent checks for the patrol charges to the state Aug. 3-10.

A finding against Police Chief John Hephner for underdeposit of $2 was paid afterward, the report said.

Stiffer Traffic Penalties Asked

Traffic judges should be more severe in the punishments they mete out so as to act as a deterrent to a high auto accident rate, Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff of East Liverpool told the Lisbon Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

Judge Chertoff also recommended the suspension of driver's licenses of chronic offenders.

Judge Chertoff spoke mainly of traffic cases that reach his jurisdiction. He also cited figures from the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters that predicted 52,000 persons will be killed and 1.5 million injured in traffic accidents this year.

The meeting was held at the Daughters of America Lodge Rooms. The program chairman was Judge James MacDonald of Southwest Area County Court in Lisbon.

treasury on Aug. 3 a sum of $1,070 for March accounts, $714 for June accounts and $1,040 for May accounts. Collections of $341 for July 1965 were paid into the treasury Aug. 5, the report said.

It revealed the mayor had not during the audit period made monthly distribution of the funds as required by law.

"An analysis of the mayor's office bank accounts reveals collections were retained as cash on hand in his possession and not deposited in the bank at regular intervals. In some instances, considerable amounts of cash and checks were held in the office or in his possession for some time without deposit."

The report also added, "The mayor has been very lax in distributions of the state's share of patrol fines and forfeitures. There were no disbursements made to the state during the audit period." There was $313 owed to the state for such patrol cases and the mayor said he sent checks for the patrol charges to the state Aug. 3-10.

A finding against Police Chief John Hephner for underdeposit of $2 was paid afterward, the report said.

Stiffer Traffic Penalties Asked

Traffic judges should be more severe in the punishments they mete out so as to act as a deterrent to a high auto accident rate, Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff of East Liverpool told the Lisbon Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

Judge Chertoff also recommended the suspension of driver's licenses of chronic offenders.

Judge Chertoff spoke mainly of traffic cases that reach his jurisdiction. He also cited figures from the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters that predicted 52,000 persons will be killed and 1.5 million injured in traffic accidents this year.

The meeting was held at the Daughters of America Lodge Rooms. The program chairman was Judge James MacDonald of Southwest Area County Court in Lisbon.

Kentucky Youths Face Unorthodox Punishment

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police Judge Jack May has added a new punishment to his unorthodox list of sentences for teen-age traffic violators.

May sentences high school students who violate traffic laws to write their own obituaries.

"I think teen-agers, while they may be physically fit and alert, are not good drivers for the simple reason they have no experience and don't know the horror that can result from wrecks," May, 39, said in an interview.

The judge believes that requiring students to write about traffic deaths "introduces them to the horrible experiences in a safe and sane manner."

Only two students have received that punishment, but May said there will be others.

A 17-year-old high school student described how his speeding violation resulted in two deaths, two injured and a broken home.

"I am glad I was stopped and given the ticket," he wrote. "This has taught me a good lesson that I will always remember."

The obituary idea is May's own. Other punishments he gives instead of fines were originated by a youth advisory jury, established by May three years ago.

"The youngsters are tough," May said. "But they are fair. They know how to get their fellow students."

Some of their recommended sentences:

—Send youngsters to a funeral home to see accident victims, interview the mortician, and write a theme about it.

—Require a visit to a hospital emergency room to interview attendants who treat injured persons.

May doesn't think a person should be permitted to drive when he's 16, anyway.

"A 16-year-old doesn't have enough experience in life. The youngsters this age are often unemployed and if you fine them, who's going to pay the tab? It's usually dad or somebody else."

Clears Way For Promulgation

Vatican Council Approves Religious Liberty Decree

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council reportedly gave overwhelming approval today to its declaration on religious liberty, clearing the way for its promulgation by Pope Paul VI.

Council spokesmen confirmed that the vote was taken in the council session in St. Peter's Basilica. But they said the result would not be announced until late in the day because the ballots were still being counted when the council recessed.

Other sources said the historic document easily received the required two-thirds approval and possibly obtained almost unanimous acceptance.

The declaration will be promulgated by Pope Paul VI in a public session of the council on Dec. 7, the day before the three-year assembly of Roman Catholic bishops ends. A final vote will be taken then, but that will be a formality.

The vote represented another triumph for the progressive majority among the Roman Catholic hierarchy. A small group of conservative holdouts fought the document every step of the way.

The final revised text made concessions to both sides.

The declaration states that all men have an intrinsic right derived from God to think and worship as they believe without outside coercion.

This was what the progressives fought hardest for during the long debates and behind the scene struggles that marked the document's stormy passage through the council.

It is also what many Protestant churchmen regard as the council's most important single expression for the unity movement to bring Roman Catholics and other Christians closer together.

The text still contains a section demanded by conservatives. It is a reaffirmation of the Church doctrine that Catholicism is the one true religion and the one true church.

Many progressive bishops and Protestant observers at the council feel the assertion is out of place in the religious liberty document since it already has been spelled out in the council's 1964 decree on the nature of the Church.

But several members of the American bishops' press panel expressed the opinion that the assertion has been toned down to make it more acceptable to Protestants.

2nd Anniversary Of Assassination

Memorial Observances Set For Kennedy Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — Memorial observances will be held in many parts of America for President John F. Kennedy on Monday, the second anniversary of his assassination.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, the slain president's home state, proclaimed a John F. Kennedy Memorial Week starting Sunday.

Said his proclamation: "It is fitting that now, two years after his death, we recall not the grief which was felt in every nation at the shocking tragedy of his assassination, but the challenge which he extended to all Americans — that of personal sacrifice and heartfelt endeavor for one's country — for he will long symbolize the ultimate acceptance of that challenge."

In Dallas, where Kennedy was shot on Nov. 22, 1963, there were plans to mark the anniversary with a number of church services and the placing of wreaths at the assassination site.

One of the wreaths will be placed by Miss Laura Alexander, recently named "Democratic Woman of the Year," on behalf of the Democratic clubs of Dallas County. Democratic women of Dallas County will attend a memorial Mass at Sacred Heart Cathedral. The Knights of Columbus Council in west Dallas planned a memorial and wreath-laying Sunday afternoon.

The Catholic archdiocese of Washington announced special Masses at St. Matthew's Cathedral, where the Kennedy funeral was held, and at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception.

A unique observance at Papillion, Neb., will take the form of a long-delayed post-office dedication. The dedication originally was scheduled for Nov. 22, 1963, but it was postponed indefinitely because of the assassination. On Monday postal officials and members of the community will dedicate the building as a Kennedy memorial.

Mayor Bernard Eichholz of Covington, Ky., proclaimed Monday as John F. Kennedy Day, asking citizens to "remember in their prayers our late president and the causes to which his whole life was dedicated."

The College of Great Falls, Mont., planned a Mass to be followed by a ceremony at the campus memorial to the late president.

3 Of 4 Who Fled Jail At Bryan Are Still At Large

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Three of four prisoners who escaped Williams County Jail early Thursday remained on the loose today although at least one had been reported seen in town.

Lloyd C. Quillen, 20; Ronald Gill, 22, and Gary Steele, 19, all of Bryan, were the fugitives. Rolland Ford, 18, of Fayette, was nabbed by Montpelier Police scarcely an hour after the break—and three hours before the Sheriff's Department knew there had been an escape.

The prisoners used smuggled-in hacksaw blades to saw through cell bars and cut the lock on the wire mesh over an outside window for their getaway.

The escapees were in jail for offenses such as breaking and entering, parole violation and larceny.

Pottery Union Backs Annual 'Dimes' Drive

Following the lead of the national AFL-CIO, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today gave strong endorsement to the annual March of Dimes drive, which will be held in January.

The IBOP said "it is traditional for organized labor to endorse this program and its demonstrated service to the members of organized labor and their dependents. . ."

The campaign is the largest single source of funds for research, care and rehabilitation of children born with birth defects and therefore the drive "directly concerns every union family," the union said in a statement in its official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

Head Of Eagles Urges Lodges To Back Viet GI's

MILWAUKEE — "It is important that we show our fighting men in Viet Nam that we are behind them," Max F. Schroeder, national grand worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, said in an appeal to the membership of the order throughout the United States and Canada.

"One of the ways to do this," he wrote, "is to send a gift or news from home to every young man from his home town. Another way is to expand the Eagles cooperation with CARE in meeting emergency needs of the refugees and war victims in South Viet Nam.

Schroeder urged all clubs to organize an Eagles-CARE-for Viet Nam Committee to raise funds in each community to support the Eagles emergency relief program conducted by CARE, which provides food, clothing materials, school supplies for children and self-help equipment there.

Drapes, Tools Taken At North Side Building

Police today are investigating a burglary at a North Side building in which drapes and tools were taken.

Paul Jones of 1317 Riverview St. reported the entry Thursday at property at 1521 Smithfield St., former location of the Jones Dry Cleaning Co. He said the intruder escaped with a quantity of heavy tan drapes, three 12-inch pipe wrenches, two 24-inch pipe wrenches and a box of assorted tools, including socket wrenches, screw drivers and hammers.

Jones said he discovered Monday night that an intruder had broken a hole through a door on the northwest side of the structure. He said he boarded up the opening, but the temporary covering was removed Wednesday night or Thursday morning in the second entry.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Immediate Punishment Halts Offenses

Often you have heard and read that punishment of a child should be suited to his offense. This "rule" may be effectively applied in a few instances as when you deny the use of the car to a youth you know has been speeding or driving recklessly. You might effect this punishment by a mere command or by having him leave with you for a few weeks or months his driver's license. The police department might revoke his license.

Dr. Garry Myers

There are many other situations in which suiting the punishment to the offense may not be effective. Suppose your little child bites other children of the neighborhood. Suppose, for punishment, you require the youngster, three or four, to stay alone indoors for several hours or days because he bit other children and was very aggressive toward them in other ways.

—:—

WHEN YOU release him later, he might be more aggressive. He needs your immediate guidance in ever so many situations before he can become a good playmate.

If, as you saw him bite another youngster, you required him immediately to sit in a chair for twenty minutes, unamused, or if you turned him over your knee and gave him a sound whack immediately every time he bit a child during the next several days, he would almost surely cease his biting ways. He would more surely obey if you also found ways to help him gain pleasure from desirable play behavior.

Suppose your tot, two, three or four, were rough with his toys and deliberately broke some of them. Limiting the punishment to the offense, you might deny him all toys for a definite period.

But how is he to learn to be careful of his playthings when he has none? He needs guidance while he is using his playthings.

—:—

BY QUIET, positive suggestions you might induce him to be careful. At the moment he deliberately harms or breaks a toy, you should give him a lusty whack on his fundamental or make him sit for twenty minutes, unamused.

Complaint Asks Dope Conviction Erased Off Books

CLEVELAND (AP)—A complaint asking that his narcotics conviction in Cleveland 31 years ago be erased from the books has been filed in U. S. District Court here by a 58-year-old man who is serving a 10-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

The man, indicted by a federal grand jury here in 1934, was sentenced to 18 months in prison on his plea of guilty.

A year ago he was arrested in New York on a narcotics law violation and was sentenced to serve mandatory 10 years because he was a second offender.

In his complaint filed Thursday, he asks the court to vacate the first sentence on grounds that he was not represented by an attorney when he pleaded guilty 31 years ago.

Arraignment Set Today For 2 On Abortion Charge

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A Buckeye Lake man acquitted in a similar case eight years ago and an Ohio State University student from Marion awaited arraignment today on abortion charges.

John Doster, 72, of Buckeye Lake and Richard Reeser, 22, of Marion were lodged in Licking County jail after secret grand jury indictments were returned Thursday.

Doster is accused of performing illegal surgery on an Ohio State coed and Reeser with serving as go-between for the abortionist and the patient last month.

The operation allegedly took place in Doster's home. The girl later developed an infection and was hospitalized in Columbus. She testified before the grand jury.

Preliminary plans call for a four-story inn of approximately 150 rooms with a restaurant on the top floor. A swimming pool, putting green and tennis courts will be included in the recreational area on the six-acre premises.

High Morale Of GIs, Poor India Ties Cited

NEW YORK (AP)—High morale of U.S. troops in Viet Nam and low ebb of U.S. relations with India were noted by Rep. J. William Stanton, R-Ohio, on his return from an Asian tour.

The congressman said the trip cost him $2,000—he paid his own way—but said he believed the 13-day tour gave him a good, objective look at trouble spots.

He recommended that economic aid to India be resumed along with limited military aid in India's dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Immediate Punishment Halts Offenses

Often you have heard and read that punishment of a child should be suited to his offense. This "rule" may be effectively applied in a few instances as when you deny the use of the car to a youth you know has been speeding or driving recklessly. You might effect this punishment by a mere command or by having him leave with you for a few weeks or months his driver's license. The police department might revoke his license.

Dr. Garry Myers

There are many other situations in which suiting the punishment to the offense may not be effective. Suppose your little child bites other children of the neighborhood. Suppose, for punishment, you require the youngster, three or four, to stay alone indoors for several hours or days because he bit other children and was very aggressive toward them in other ways.

—:—

WHEN YOU release him later, he might be more aggressive. He needs your immediate guidance in ever so many situations before he can become a good playmate.

If, as you saw him bite another youngster, you required him immediately to sit in a chair for twenty minutes, unamused, or if you turned him over your knee and gave him a sound whack immediately every time he bit a child during the next several days, he would almost surely cease his biting ways. He would more surely obey if you also found ways to help him gain pleasure from desirable play behavior.

Suppose your tot, two, three or four, were rough with his toys and deliberately broke some of them. Limiting the punishment to the offense, you might deny him all toys for a definite period.

But how is he to learn to be careful of his playthings when he has none? He needs guidance while he is using his playthings.

BY QUIET, positive suggestions you might induce him to be careful. At the moment he deliberately harms or breaks a toy, you should give him a lusty whack on his fundamental or make him sit for twenty minutes, unamused.

But giving him physical pain or making him sit unamused when he bites another youngster or deliberately destroys a toy, is not related to the offense except that it is connected with it in time or place.

How can you effectively suit punishment to the offense in order to require a child, nine or twelve, to begin his homework promptly or do his chores faithfully? Deny him the privilege to do them and he will be pleased; he will be rewarded for his derelictions.

Don't bother about suiting the punishment to the offense. Just be sure you provide sufficient discomfort to him, as quickly as possible following his doing what you don't want him to repeat, or his failure to obey your positive command.

IN RECENT months a number of parents have written me or told me personally of teenagers over whom they have lost control. When I have inquired about what cherished privileges they might deny this recalcitrant youth, they have never named the use of a car.

When I have suggested it, they have replied: "But how could you suit this to the offense?" Always my answer is, "Why try to do so? It could be your most effective means of control. Your concern should be merely to connect the penalty with any definite, serious case of disobedience."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: While sewing one day, I found that a bar of used soap (which you always have around the house) makes an excellent marker for darts, etc. I like it much better than chalk.

It makes clear, even marks on my material, and washes out beautifully when washable clothes are laundered.

Colored soap could be used on light material, and white on darker shades.

BERNICE PLATEK.

Now, Bernice, you are about the trickiest that I have seen in a long while.

Certainly, green or pink soap would show beautifully on white or navy blue, etc., materials.

I especially love the leftover "slivers" for this, after the bar of soap has been used, and used, and used. Makes a real neat mark. It's so nice and slim.

Thanks from all of us who sew. I happen to be one.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When the plastic on the inside of baby's pants tears or cracks, cut the plastic out of the inside of the pants, and use the outside rayon as pants.

It works beautifully. Saves, too.

MRS. NEUDORF.

DEAR HELOISE: To dry Venetian blinds in a hurry, after the last rinse, tie them to a line outdoors or over the shower rod of your bathtub, then use the blower on your vacuum cleaner!

They will dry fast, and will have no water spots on them.

A HELOISE FAN.

-:-

True but hang them back on the window and fasten them before the tape dries. Most tapes shrink, so stretch 'em while wet.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have perspiration - stained T-shirts and sheets, along with towels which often look dirty — especially in the center —here's a suggestion. I add three tablespoons of sal soda, along with detergent, in the washing machine when doing the laundry. It works like a gem.

One can pre-soak clothes in a few tablespoons of sal soda in cool water before washing and this seems to do an even better job.

Since I found this out, my laundry gleams.

DEAR HAPPY: I do hope you are not soaking your clothes in the detergent water over 14 minutes. Know why?

Because the molecules in a detergent pull the soil from the clothes and suspend it in the water. But this action lasts only about 15 minutes. After that time, the soil is redeposited in the clothes. So, I beg of you ladies, do not soak your clothes more than 14 minutes.

HELOISE

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another solution to the problem of the slipping shirt tail: (Men's synthetic shirts won't stay in trousers).

Cut a strip of corduroy on the straight grain of the fabric. Attach on inside of trousers, skirts, slacks, etc.

FRAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a "nut" on those paint-by-number pictures.

Once a picture is painted, the numbers do not mean anything. So, every time I open a jar, I paint a stripe right across the top of the lid. In this way I always know what color it contains.

These little jars of paint come in handy lots of times.

I have even touched up some old earrings, and they look like new.

MRS. A. McGANN.

Coed, Man Acquitted Of Disturbing Peace

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Oberlin College coed and a Cleveland man have been acquitted of disturbing the peace during a civil rights demonstration but the case of a former Oberlin student continues today.

The former Oberlin student, Donald Shankman, 22, of Chicago, also is charged with disturbing the peace.

Municipal Judge Theodore M. Williams acquitted Miss Marcia Aronoff, 21, of New York City Thursday. Police arrested her April 26 as she sat in a crosswalk near the new federal building construction site. Also acquitted was Mohamad Syed, 49, Cleveland.

Ohio's Farm Bureau Settles Down To Adopt 1966 Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of its distinguished guests moved on to St. Paul, Minn., and the other prepared to leave for the Far East, while the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation settled down to adopting 1966 policy.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Thursday afternoon speaker, flew to Minnesota to address another agricultural meeting Thursday night—the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, planned to visit Japan, India and other oriental countries—but to skip Viet Nam because so many other members of Congress have visited there.

The federation began Thursday night considering resolutions of its policy committee after the major daytime events, and planned to act on them today before ending the 47th annual, three - day gathering of some 1,500 farm people.

Humphrey spoke before a virtually full house in the Neil House ballroom.

He said here, and again in a similar talk at St. Paul, that "America's agriculture is the front line of our security."

The Humphrey and Lausche appearances provided the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation with clashing views on the new federal farm act.

Humphrey lauded it as a "major breakthrough," predicting it would end needless and expensive surpluses while preserving reserves adequate for national security.

Lausche, who voted against the farm act, explained to the delegates that he did so because "compulsory compliance puts a harness on the liberty of the American farmer."

The President's flag has a blue field with a gold seal in the center and a white star in each corner.

Thanks from all of us who sew, I happen to be one.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When the plastic on the inside of baby's pants tears or cracks, cut the plastic out of the inside of the pants, and use the outside rayon as pants.

It works beautifully. Saves, too.

MRS. NEUDORF.

DEAR HELOISE: To dry Venetian blinds in a hurry, after the last rinse, tie them to a line outdoors or over the shower rod of your bathtub, then use the blower on your vacuum cleaner!

They will dry fast, and will have no water spots on them.

A HELOISE FAN.

-:-

True but hang them back on the window and fasten them before the tape dries. Most tapes shrink, so stretch 'em while wet.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have perspiration - stained T-shirts and sheets, along with towels which often look dirty — especially in the center —here's a suggestion. I add three tablespoons of sal soda, along with detergent, in the washing machine when doing the laundry. It works like a gem.

One can pre-soak clothes in a few tablespoons of sal soda in cool water before washing and this seems to do an even better job.

Since I found this out, my laundry gleams.

DEAR HAPPY: I do hope you are not soaking your clothes in the detergent water over 14 minutes. Know why?

Because the molecules in a detergent pull the soil from the clothes and suspend it in the water. But this action lasts only about 15 minutes. After that time, the soil is re-deposited in the clothes. So, I beg of you ladies, do not soak your clothes more than 14 minutes.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another solution to the problem of the slipping shirt tail: (Men's synthetic shirts won't stay in trousers).

Cut a strip of corduroy on the straight grain of the fabric. Attach on inside of trousers, skirts, slacks, etc.

FRAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a "nut" on those paint-by-number pictures.

Once a picture is painted, the numbers do not mean anything. So, every time I open a jar, I paint a stripe right across the top of the lid. In this way I always know what color it contains.

These little jars of paint come in handy lots of times.

I have even touched up some old earrings, and they look like new.

Coed, Man Acquitted Of Disturbing Peace

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Oberlin College coed and a Cleveland man have been acquitted of disturbing the peace during a civil rights demonstration but the case of a former Oberlin student continues today.

The former Oberlin student, Donald Shankman, 22, of Chicago, also is charged with disturbing the peace.

Municipal Judge Theodore M. Williams acquitted Miss Marcia Aronoff, 21, of New York City Thursday. Police arrested her April 26 as she sat in a crosswalk near the new federal building construction site. Also acquitted was Mohamad Syed, 49, Cleveland.

Ohio's Farm Bureau Settles Down To Adopt 1966 Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of its distinguished guests moved on to St. Paul, Minn., and the other prepared to leave for the Far East, while the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation settled down to adopting 1966 policy.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Thursday afternoon speaker, flew to Minnesota to address another agricultural meeting Thursday night—the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, planned to visit Japan, India and other oriental countries—but to skip Viet Nam because so many other members of Congress have visited there.

The federation began Thursday night considering resolutions of its policy committee after the major daytime events, and planned to act on them today before ending the 47th annual, three - day gathering of some 1,500 farm people.

Humphrey spoke before a virtually full house in the Neil House ballroom.

He said here, and again in a similar talk at St. Paul, that "America's agriculture is the front line of our security."

The Humphrey and Lausche appearances provided the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation with clashing views on the new federal farm act.

Humphrey lauded it as a "major breakthrough," predicting it would end needless and expensive surpluses while preserving reserves adequate for national security.

Lausche, who voted against the farm act, explained to the delegates that he did so because "compulsory compliance puts a harness on the liberty of the American farmer."

The President's flag has a blue field with a gold seal in the center and a white star in each corner.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old boy who works after school and on weekends. Please print this letter and make life a lot easier for all of us who are in this line of work.

A customer comes in and says, "I want an ice cream cone." Then I have to ask him, "What kind of ice cream do you want?" The customer says, "What kind do you have?" I have to rattle off the whole list. Our shop has the biggest selection in town — 28 flavors.

After I go through the list, the customer looks at me and says, "Haven't you got kumquat or loganberry?" When I say "No," he gets a real sad expression on his face and says, "I'll take vanilla."

I get so mad I want to jump over the counter and hit him in the mouth. Can you think of a snappy answer for these clowns?—TOMMY.

-:-

Dear Tommy: Customers don't come in for snappy answers. They come in for ice cream.

A shop that features 28 flavors should have a sign listing them. In the meantime, remember that the customer may not always be right but he is always the customer.

Emotional Problem

Dear Ann: Several days ago our 3-year-old son came down with hives all over his body. We called the doctor and he had us bring the boy in for tests.

After the tests were completed the doctor said the boy's hives are caused by an emotional problem. He recommended that we take him to a specialist who deals with disturbed children.

My wife didn't say anything till we got home. Then she really blew her stack. She said, "That doctor is crazy. What can a 3-year-old child be disturbed about? He doesn't know about the bomb or Red China. When doctors can't find out what's wrong they always blame an emotional problem."

Now that I think about it, what she said makes sense. We'd like your opinion. — A AND C.

Dear A and C: Very few people get hives because of Red China. What really disturbs people are close to home problems—like a domineering husband, a cold mother, a brutal father, a sneaky brother or a ruthless boss. And there's no age limit. It can happen to anybody, any time. I hope your wife will take the doctor's advice.

Morning Madness

Dear Ann: My husband is one of the sweetest people who ever lived — after 11 a.m. But when he gets up in the morning, he is grouchy and sullen.

We've been married five years and it's been like this from the beginning. I make a special effort to see that his breakfast is exactly the way he wants it. The paper is folded according to his instructions, at the left of his plate. Sometimes he can't find his glasses, so I always have an extra pair on the table.

I force myself to be cheerful and pleasant even when I feel rotten. Nothing helps. Maybe if I understood why he's like this I could accept it. For obvious reasons I can't ask my friends if their husbands behave this way. I'd hate for them to know I have the problem. Thanks for your help. — A.M. BLUES.

Dear A.M.: Some people don't have the physical machinery to generate energy until noon, so don't be so critical.

Nothing can be more annoying to a morning sourpuss than a chirping mate. So cut it, chickadee.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Mind Plays Role In Weight Control

In dieting to slim down, the rought part is mainly mental. What happens when you make up your mind to have done with diet - dabbling and eat to lick your weight to a standstill? It means that your desire to slim down is wholehearted. Then all the forces of your personality are brought to bear on the problem. Also, you have a real feeling that it is possible to succeed.

Ida Jean Kain

Of the millions of words written on diet and exercise and slimming, perhaps none commands so much respect or does more to bolster sagging morale than straight talk from former overweights who have won through to success.

—:—

"LAST JANUARY I started your eat to reduce plan. I found it a real help to have menus to follow and to know many different foods can be used in a diet. But the greatest boost came from your columns in which you told us what to expect. It was like having a friend to call on for help.

"I found out that a person cannot, regardless of hard work, snack on sweets and expect to lose. Since I changed to the pick-up of cheese, a hard cooked egg or fruit, I've lost my craving for sweets.

"I have reduced from 171 to 139 pounds. The doctor is so pleased. My friends think I've starved myself to lose so much. How wrong they are! I tell them that the secret is a protective eating plan, a little daily exercise — plus slimming psychology. I find exercise a help in keeping the pounds off. Many thanks."

Congratulations! Exercise is an anchor to slimward, particularly when you hit the later weight-standstill period.

A HOMEMAKER who put her mind to the problem of excess pounds did so by facing the fact that self-pity was back of her failure.

"I was forever starting diets, but hating every minute of them, I couldn't force myself to stay with the plan. I bitterly resented the fact that I had to cook meals for the family. Finally, I decided I could slim down on family fare if I would take small servings. When I realized I could do this, the mental block disappeared and I found I enjoyed the challenge. I've lost 29 pounds!

"The science of nutrition is wonderful. One can eat and slim down. But the important part is to first change your thinking. So please keep right on with the mental reminders."

Right. Your mind plays the lead role. Think in terms of your goal. Think slim, stay trim!

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Columbus, Ohio, woman suffered a heart attack at a garage and died an hour after the family car was involved in a traffic accident.

In Copper As In Aluminum

President Insulates Self From Political Backlash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just as he did in the aluminum price rollback, President Johnson is taking precautions to insulate himself from any political backlash from business on copper.

The President appeared belatedly Thursday in the government's release of 200,000 tons of copper from the strategic stockpile. It was necessary for him to make the declaration which would legalize the action announced previously by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

To a news conference held by press secretary Bill D. Moyers came Joseph Califano, a presidential assistant, to play down the idea that the government acted to counter rising copper prices.

This amounted almost to a replay of the decision to release 300,000 tons of aluminum from the national stockpile. While the White House said this had nothing to do with a price increase, the manufacturers got the message last week and rescinded the price advances they had posted.

Califano stressed there was a world scarcity of copper that threatened to get worse. He said producers were rationing their regular customers and that defense requirements for the metal would double in the next year because of the Viet Nam conflict.

In a statement, Johnson put himself in the position of accepting — rather than initiating — the decision to sell from the stockpile.

He said he accepted the recommendation made by Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, and concurred in by the secretaries of state, treasury, defense and Commerce and the Council of Economic Advisers.

Ellington made a national defense matter of it, saying that the present market situation and the future outlook posed "serious risks to the common defense."

With the administration focusing on this approach, many observers took the view that the industry leaders — who might feel as their aluminum colleagues did that the government was laying a heavy hand on business — would hesitate to criticize publicly a decision the President said was based on defense needs.

But there remained some doubt that all of the maneuvering would be entirely successful in sustaining the cozy political climate with business Johnson is striving to maintain.

Irish-Spartan Duel One Of Four Big Ones Saturday

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The clash between Michigan State and Notre Dame, a game that undoubtedly will have a key bearing on the national championship, is one of four big ones that dominate the last full weekend of the college football season.

The games between Arkansas and Texas Tech, Southern California and UCLA, and Princeton and Dartmouth share top billing on a Saturday schedule replete with traditional games, conference championships and struggles for bowl bids.

Of the four, only Texas Tech at Arkansas is scheduled for regional television coverage.

The other regionally televised games are Missouri-Kansas, Harvard-Yale and Ohio State-Michigan.

The traditional games include Kentucky and Tenneseee, each hoping for a bowl bid, and Washington-Washington State, with State still technically in the running for a Rose Bowl berth but an outsider to UCLA and Southern California.

Others, with pride, prestige and tradition the principal factors at stake, are Duke and North Carolina, Indiana and Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois, Oregon and Oregon State, Pitt and Penn State.

None, however quite compares with the big four. Here's a thumbnail sketch of each of them:

MICHIGAN STATE AT NOTRE DAME — Michigan State is ranked first in the nation with a 9-0 record and has clinched a spot in the Rose Bowl. Notre Dame is ranked fourth with a 7-1 mark and has a policy prohibiting bowl games.

The winner probably will have the inside track to the national championship, determined by The Associated Press poll following the New Year's bowl games.

Michigan State's chief scout, Burt Smith, summarizes the game like this:

"They have a big, tough team with wonderful personnel. They're much like our team — good passing and running and strong on rushing defense. I think the game will go to the team that makes the fewest mistakes."

The game is a toss-up.

TEXAS TECH AT ARKANSAS — Arkansas is ranked second in the nation with a 9-0 record this season and a string of 21 straight. Texas Tech is No. 9 with an 8-1 mark. The winner gets the host spot in the Cotton Bowl against an opponent to be determined.

Arkansas has clinched at least a share of the Southwest Conference title and can win it outright by beating Texas Tech. Tech can share the crown by beating Arkansas.

Should Tech lose, it will move into the Gator Bowl vs. Georgia Tech. Should Arkansas lose, the Razorbacks probably will go to another bowl, either the Gator or Sugar, the latter opposite Missouri.

Arkansas is a two-touchdown favorite.

UCLA AT SOUTHERN CAL — Southern Cal is ranked sixth in the nation, UCLA seventh. Each has a 6-1-1 record going into the traditional cross-town clash.

The winner almost certainly will gain the Rose Bowl berth opposite Michigan State. Conference rules prohibit participation in any other bowl. Each has one more game remaining.

Southern Cal, possessing one of the country's most outstanding runners in Mike Garrett, is a one-touchdown favorite.

DARTMOUTH AT PRINCETON — Neither is ranked nationally, although each has an 8-0 record and Princeton has won 17 straight. The winner is the Ivy League champion — nothing more.

League rules prohibit postseason games, which may make this the first time two teams with perfect records have met in the final game of the season and neither had bowl hopes.

Princeton is a one touchdown favorite.

Missouri and Florida are the only other ranked teams in action. Missouri, No. 8, takes a 6-2-1 record against Nebraska, while No. 10 Florida has a 6-2 mark going into a night game with Miami, Fla.

Third-ranked Nebraska, 9-0, and fifth-ranked Alabama, 7-1-1, expected to oppose each other in the Orange Bowl, are idle.

Holtz To Speak Here . . .

A home town boy will return to address the 1965 East Liverpool High School football squad when the Blue and White Nonpariel Club honors the team at its annual banquet Dec. 8 at St. Aloysius School.

Lou Holtz, the No. 1 assistant coach at the University of Connecticut, will be guest speaker. Arrangements were completed by Dick Wolf, club president.

Lou, who played some football at East Liverpool but was regarded kind of small as gridders go, is in his second season at the New England school.

The 29-year-old Holtz is serving under Rick Forzano, whom he met at Kent State University.

Connecticut hasn't been setting New England on fire this season as far as its won-lost record goes. It has only three victories. But one noteworthy accomplishment is that for the first time in the 87-year history of the series Connecticut defeated Yale. Last season Connecticut finished with a 4-4-1 mark, the best record in five years. Before Forzano and his staff arrived, Connecticut had won only three games in two years.

Holtz serves as backfield coach and when he was at William & Mary as an assistant in 1963 the

Its head coach is Jack O'Rourke, formerly of Wellsville, but more recently remembered for his outstanding grid machines at Beaver Local a few years ago.

It appears the O'Rourke magic has taken a foothold at the central Ohio school.

After losing its opener, O'Rourke's team tied its second game. But after that it was smooth sailing. The Alder eleven moved for eight straight victories and in that period gave up only four touchdowns.

It looks as if O'Rourke is pretty well set for next year. He calls his current team quite young and has 16 lettermen returning next season.

Buckeyes Meet Michigan Which Leads In Passing

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Michigan (AP) Michigan, which raced to the Big Ten football title with a fine running attack a year ago, enters its final game of the season against Ohio State Saturday as the league's best passing team.

A crowd of some 85,000 is expected to be on hand for the 62nd game of the series which will be televised regionaly as the NCAA game of the week.

Perhaps the fact that the Wolverines have developed a passing attack is not so surprising. Coach Bump Elliott said before the season that he expected his team to throw more despite the loss of four ends and All-America quarterback Bob Timberlake.

One reason for the Wovervines' success through the air has been the play of end Jack Clancy, a converted halfback. Clancy leads the Big Ten with 31 receptions for 468 yards and four touchdowns.

He has already set Michigan records for receptions and yards gained.

Adding to this success is the fact that quarterback Wally Gabler has shown a steady hand at passing. He's fifth in the league over-all but leads all passers in that only two of his tosses have been intercepted in 105 attempts.

But while the passing game has developed, Michigan's running game is not lagging. With Carl Ward and Dave Fisher doing most of the work, the Wolverines have averaged 194.5 yards on the ground in six league contests.

Ohio State is expected to present a stiff challenge to the Michigan passing attack. The Buckeyes lead the league in pass defense.

Michigan also faces another challenge to its defense against rushing after being ripped by Northwestern last week. Tom Barrington and Willard Sander are among the league's top rushers and Barrington has averaged 32.2 yards in kickoff returns to lead the conference in that department.

Browns Must Halt Perkins' Ground Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will meet an aerial-minded team when they play the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Sunday.

The Cowboys have gained 1,363 yards passing, compared to 977 rushing. But despite these statistics, the Browns spent considerable time Thursday working on defense against the Dallas ground maneuvers.

Main reason for this is the presence in the Cowboys' backfield of Don Perkins, who is fifth in rushing in the National Football League this season with 474 yards in 118 carries.

The Dallas fullback, who combines good speed with a smashing style of running, has been high among the NFL runners ever since he came into the league in 1961.

Perkins seemed to be headed for his finest year in 1964 when he suffered a series of injuries that kept him out of action through most of the last four games. He still managed to wind up the season with 768 yards however.

Both teams will be near top physical condition for the Sunday game, according to the latest injury reports.

Montreal Council OKs Bid For '72 Olympics

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal City Council has enthusiastically backed Mayor Jean Drapeau's plan to bid for the 1972 Summer Olympic games in Montreal.

The council authorized the mayor Thursday night to present an official invitation to the International Olympic Committee in Lausanne, Switzerland, to choose this city for the games.

Calgary is expected to make an application for the 1972 Winter Games.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State-Michigan encounter at Ann Arbor, color - televised and all, doesn't completely overshadow the seven other games that virtually wind up the Ohio college football season Saturday.

The 70th renewal of the oldest continuous rivalry west of the Alleghenies—Miami vs Cincinnati—is on the card along with efforts of Ohio University to avert a winless campaign and Xavier to finish once-beaten.

Ohio U. meets Marshall at Huntington, W. Va., in hopes of pulling the Big Green into a last-place tie with the Bobcats in the Mid-American Conference.

Xavier, 8-1, sends ace passer Carroll Williams against Texas Western's aerial circus in El Paso, Tex.

The Miami-Cincinnati match in the Queen City pits the MAC cochampion Redskins led by versatile quarterback Bruce Matte against a strong Bearcat offense.

Kent State, 4-4-1, bids to finish above .500 but has a large task with Louisville, 6-3, furnishing the nonleague opposition.

Dayton, 1-7-1, which has scored only 19 points all year, invades Toledo for a night game with the Rockets, 4-5, who lead the nation's major colleges in pass defense.

Ohio Wesleyan and Denison conclude the Ohio Conference season at Granville while the OC's Mount Union is host to Westminster, Pa.

That does it for 1965 except for a Thanksgiving Day duel at Nashville, Tenn., between Central State and Tennessee State.

Clay Remains 3-1 Favorite Monday

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Champion Cassius Clay has been floored three times in his professional boxing career of 21 fights, which may offer a shred of hope for Floyd Patterson to regain the heavyweight title here next Monday.

This may seem to be utter nonsense to the 23-year-old Muhammad Ali, alias Clay, and it must be noted that Cassius each time bounced up from the canvas and today is still unbeaten.

Such famous names as Sonny Banks, Doug Jones and England's Henry Cooper have put Clay down.

Patterson is 30 and is no novice in hitting the deck himself. But he insists he has the experience and skill to win.

He also possesses a lethal left hook which has been instrumental in the knockout of 33 fighters in 48 bouts.

"Clay says he has faster legs, but I have faster hands, and this is not a foot race," said Patterson.

The scene was relatively quiet in the training camps.

Still a 3-1 favorite, Clay planned a public drill while Patterson said he would exercise in private. Any serious sparring presumably is completed.

Muhammad has amused his followers with a display of disdain for the ex-champion, Patterson, and he has shocked some of the purists of boxing with his clowning.

But his manager, Angelo Dundee, says:

"The only problem we had was to convince Clay not to take his opponent cheaply. You don't take heavyweight championship fights cheap.

"Whatever you might think, Clay isn't taking this one that way."

Rejuvenated Vikings Get Nod Over Packer Eleven

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dutchman won't walk out this week. If the Minnesota Vikings aren't fired up for Green Bay Sunday they never will be. After Norm Van Brocklin's comments about losing the big ones the Vikes should come out swinging.

Things were tough all over for the Hand-picker last week, especially in the AFL, but we skidded through 6-5. That makes it 42-21 in the NFL 18-14-3 in the AFL and 60-35-3 for the year. Let's try again for Sunday and the two Thanksgiving Day games.

NFL

Minnesota 24, Green Bay 17 — The Vikings are just about out of it and the Packers trail Baltimore by one game with five to go. Absence of Tommy Mason hurts Minnesota and rugged Packer defense will bother Francis Tarkenton. But Green Bay's offense is sick with only 13 points in last two games.

Chciago 24, Detroit 14—Rudy Bukich on a hot streak, hit for three TDs in earlier 38-10 Bear victory. Lions will put heat on Rudy with great pass rush but interceptions have killed their attack. Terry Barr out for season and Joe Don Looney subpar. Bears will miss Mike Pyle in middle of line.

San Francisco 34, Los Angeles 21 — Swede Svare doing his best to bolster weak pass defense with rookies but John Brodie threw three TDs in early 45-21 romp. The combination of Brodie and Ken Willard's running too much for Rams to handle even with Dick Bass back to help attack.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 21 — No romp for Browns. The Cowboys are tough to run against even with Jim Brown in the cast.

New York 14, St. Louis 13—It all depends on Charley Johnson, who is hurting again. Giants seem to have hex on Cards, beating them 14-10 Oct. 31 with strong running by Tucker Frederickson and Steve Thurlow.

Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 14—Johnny Unitas may be back and if he's not there always is Cuozzo. Eagles can't run on Colt defense but they may be able to pass with Norman Snead.

Pittsburgh 17, Washington 14—The no-offense battle. Steelers can't afford five interceptions again and Washington defense is capable. Steeler running game should do the job.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Baltimore 24, Detroit 14—Two games in five days a rugged assignment but Colts appear better equipped.

AFL

New York 20, Houston 17—Jets are on the move with three straight, thanks to sturdy defense. Don Trull's passes and three fumbles ruined New York earlier in 27-21 defeat. It all depends on whether George Blanda is having a hot or cold day.

Kansas City 21, Boston 14—Chiefs riding high after upset of San Diego with Len Dawson on target again.

Oakland 24, Denver 17—Two teams tough to figure. They split two exhibition games but Broncos are vulnerable to air game and Raiders boast good defense.

THANKSGIVING DAY

San Diego 24, Buffalo 21—After a day off Sunday both Chargers and Bills should be ready.

Bret Hanover Shooting For Triple Crown

A victory for the strapping 3-year-old owned by Richard Downing of Cleveland, Ohio, also would virtually assure Bret Hanover of being named the Harness Horse of the Year for the second straight time.

Unbeaten in 24 starts as a 2-year-old, the offspring of Adios-Brenna Hanover ran his winning streak to 35 straight before losing by a neck to Adios Vic in August on a one-mile track. His record this year is 20 wins and three seconds in 23 starts, including the Cane Futurity and the Little Brown Jug, the first two legs in pacings Triple Crown.

Opposing him over Roosevelts half-mile oval will be six other pacers, with Rivaltime the second choice at 6-1. Tuxedo Hanover is listed at 8-1. Bobby T. Knight and Gee Lee Hanover are 30-1, with Toreador Hanover and Trainer Hanover 50-1.

Bob Pulford Sparks Leafs Over Canadiens

By The Associated Press

If the Toronto Maple Leafs are having a hard time getting started this season, it certainly hasn't been the fault of Bob Pulford.

The veteran center, in his 10th National Hockey League season, figured in all three goals as the Leafs turned back the Canadiens 3-1 in Montreal in the only game played Thursday night.

Pulford and linemates Eddie Shack and Larry Jeffrey collected a goal apiece, all in the third period. Pulford also contributed a pair of assists.

The Houston Astros drew 2,151,470 fans for their first season in the Astrodome. It was the second best figure in baseball.

Rejuvenated Vikings Get Nod Over Packer Eleven

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dutchman won't walk out this week. If the Minnesota Vikings aren't fired up for Green Bay Sunday they never will be. After Norm Van Brocklin's comments about losing the big ones the Vikes should come out swinging.

Things were tough all over for the Hand-picker last week, especially in the AFL, but we skidded through 6-5. That makes it 42-21 in the NFL 18-14-3 in the AFL and 60-35-3 for the year. Let's try again for Sunday and the two Thanksgiving Day games.

NFL

Minnesota 24, Green Bay 17 — The Vikings are just about out of it and the Packers trail Baltimore by one game with five to go. Absence of Tommy Mason hurts Minnesota and rugged Packer defense will bother Francis Tarkenton. But Green Bay's offense is sick with only 13 points in last two games.

Chciago 24, Detroit 14—Rudy Bukich on a hot streak, hit for three TDs in earlier 38-10 Bear victory. Lions will put heat on Rudy with great pass rush but interceptions have killed their attack. Terry Barr out for season and Joe Don Looney subpar. Bears will miss Mike Pyle in middle of line.

San Francisco 34, Los Angeles 21 — Swede Svare doing his best to bolster weak pass defense with rookies but John Brodie threw three TDs in early 45-21 romp. The combination of Brodie and Ken Willard's running too much for Rams to handle even with Dick Bass back to help attack.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 21 — No romp for Browns. The Cowboys are tough to run against even with Jim Brown in the cast.

New York 14, St. Louis 13—It all depends on Charley Johnson, who is hurting again. Giants seem to have hex on Cards, beating them 14-10 Oct. 31 with strong running by Tucker Frederickson and Steve Thurlow.

Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 14—Johnny Unitas may be back and if he's not there always is Cuozzo. Eagles can't run on Colt defense but they may be able to pass with Norman Snead.

Pittsburgh 17, Washington 14—The no-offense battle. Steelers can't afford five interceptions again and Washington defense is capable. Steeler running game should do the job.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Baltimore 24, Detroit 14—Two games in five days a rugged assignment but Colts appear better equipped.

AFL

New York 20, Houston 17—Jets are on the move with three straight, thanks to sturdy defense. Don Trull's passes and three fumbles ruined New York earlier in 27-21 defeat. It all depends on whether George Blanda is having a hot or cold day.

Kansas City 21, Boston 14—Chiefs riding high after upset of San Diego with Len Dawson on target again.

Oakland 24, Denver 17—Two teams tough to figure. They split two exhibition games but Broncos are vulnerable to air game and Raiders boast good defense.

THANKSGIVING DAY

San Diego 24, Buffalo 21—After a day off Sunday both Chargers and Bills should be ready.

Bret Hanover Shooting For Triple Crown

A victory for the strapping 3-year-old owned by Richard Downing of Cleveland, Ohio, also would virtually assure Bret Hanover of being named the Harness Horse of the Year for the second straight time.

Unbeaten in 24 starts as a 2-year-old, the offspring of Adios-Brenna Hanover ran his winning streak to 35 straight before losing by a neck to Adios Vic in August on a one-mile track. His record this year is 20 wins and three seconds in 23 starts, including the Cane Futurity and the Little Brown Jug, the first two legs in pacings Triple Crown.

Opposing him over Roosevelts half-mile oval will be six other pacers, with Rivaltime the second choice at 6-1. Tuxedo Hanover is listed at 8-1. Bobby T. Knight and Gee Lee Hanover are 30-1, with Toreador Hanover and Trainer Hanover 50-1.

Bob Pulford Sparks Leafs Over Canadiens

By The Associated Press

If the Toronto Maple Leafs are having a hard time getting started this season, it certainly hasn't been the fault of Bob Pulford.

The veteran center, in his 10th National Hockey League season, figured in all three goals as the Leafs turned back the Canadiens 3-1 in Montreal in the only game played Thursday night.

Pulford and linemates Eddie Shack and Larry Jeffrey collected a goal apiece, all in the third period. Pulford also contributed a pair of assists.

The Houston Astros drew 2,151,470 fans for their first season in the Astrodome. It was the second best figure in baseball.

Westrum Inherits Tenth-Place Mets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Westrum, who once was told to pass up a managing job because it was too easy to fire him, has slipped into possibly the toughest managerial job in the majors by becoming Casey Stengel's successor with the New York Mets.

Not only does Westrum have to follow the popular Stengel but he also will have the mammoth task of getting the Mets out of the National League cellar, a position they have held virtually without challenge in their four years' existence.

Westrum, the Mets' interim manager since Stengel fractured his left hip last July 25, seemed unconcerned Thursday about his twin challenges as he recalled how he almost became a manager once before.

"It was either in 1961 or 1962," he said. "My name was brought up as manager of the San Francisco Giants' farm club at Tacoma. But Horace Stoneham (Giants' owner) told me it would be too easy to fire me in that job. So I stayed with the Giants as a coach."

In all, Westrum spent six years with the Giants, then moved over to the Mets and became interim manager in his second year with the club.

Then, Thursday, it was announced that the 43-year-old former major league catcher with the Giants, had been selected unanimously by the Mets' board of directors as Stengel's successor.

Given a one-year contract at an estimated $30,000, Westrum became the third new manager in the majors since the season ended.

Don Heffner, a coaching colleague of Westrum's on the Mets, has replaced Dick Sisler at Cincinnati, and Leo Durocher was named manager of the Chicago Cubs. The Chicago White Sox job remains open following the resignation of Al Lopez.

Westrum, who hit .217 during an 11-year career as a catcher with the Giants both in New York and San Francisco, was not present when the announcement of his new job was made but talked by telephone from his home in Phoenix, Ariz.

"This is the most pleasant baseball news I've ever had," he said. "I have a great deal to thank Casey Stengel for. Just by being with him I've learned a lot of baseball. He gave me the opportunity and during early 1965, before he was hurt, I always sat on the bench beside him and talked with him about line-ups."

Westrum expressed confidence the Mets were "well on their way up" after four 10th-place finishes. The first three years the Mets won 40, 51 and 53 games. Last year under Stengel the Mets had a 31-64 record and were 19-48 under Westrum's leadership.

Fathers Image Is 2-1 Pick In Garden Stakes

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Trainer Arnold Winick doesn't check the weather, the weights, the distance, or even the horse's temperature before he decides to race Fathers Image.

He checks pictures of the 2-year-old colt's knees.

Winick is a firm believer in the research, which indicates knee X rays can determine when young horses are ready to race. There must be something to it, because Winick has brought the son of Swaps to the point where he is the 2-1 choice in Saturday's $125,000-added Garden State Stakes at Garden State Park.

"The knee joint of young horses matures at different times in different horses," Winick said.

"X rays are the only sure way to find out, and we've been handling Fathers Image strictly on what they show every three months."

Winick explained that because of the maturity of his bones, Fathers Image has been trained and raced lightly. He didn't start until last Aug. 16, and has one victory and four seconds in five starts.

He said owner John Olin of Alton, Ill., is interested in developing a classic horse.

"The money is no factor at all," Winick said.

Last week in the Pimlico Futurity, Fathers Image finished first, but was disqualified after a bumping contest with Mrs. Milton Erlanger's Spring Double.

Winick leaves no doubt he expects Fathers Image to win the 1 1-16-mile Garden State and the $187,167 first money. With 12 starters the race will gross $311,945.

Spring Double is the early second choice in the expected field of 2-year-olds, each carrying 122 pounds.

Fathers Image drew the No. 3 post position and Spring Double No. 9.

Other expected starters at the 4:15 p.m., EST, post are Amberoid, Stands to Reason, Prince Saim, Our Michael, the entry of Defiant Sun and Gun Flint, Needle Him, Barmer, Valam and Auric.

Westrum Inherits Tenth-Place Mets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Westrum, who once was told to pass up a managing job because it was too easy to fire him, has slipped into possibly the toughest managerial job in the majors by becoming Casey Stengel's successor with the New York Mets.

Not only does Westrum have to follow the popular Stengel but he also will have the mammoth task of getting the Mets out of the National League cellar, a position they have held virtually without challenge in their four years' existence.

Westrum, the Mets' interim manager since Stengel fractured his left hip last July 25, seemed unconcerned Thursday about his twin challenges as he recalled how he almost became a manager once before.

"It was either in 1961 or 1962," he said. "My name was brought up as manager of the San Francisco Giants' farm club at Tacoma. But Horace Stoneham (Giants' owner) told me it would be too easy to fire me in that job. So I stayed with the Giants as a coach."

In all, Westrum spent six years with the Giants, then moved over to the Mets and became interim manager in his second year with the club.

Then, Thursday, it was announced that the 43-year-old former major league catcher with the Giants, had been selected unanimously by the Mets' board of directors as Stengel's successor.

Given a one-year contract at an estimated $30,000, Westrum became the third new manager in the majors since the season ended.

Don Heffner, a coaching colleague of Westrum's on the Mets, has replaced Dick Sisler at Cincinnati, and Leo Durocher was named manager of the Chicago Cubs. The Chicago White Sox job remains open following the resignation of Al Lopez.

Westrum, who hit .217 during an 11-year career as a catcher with the Giants both in New York and San Francisco, was not present when the announcement of his new job was made but talked by telephone from his home in Phoenix, Ariz.

"This is the most pleasant baseball news I've ever had," he said. "I have a great deal to thank Casey Stengel for. Just by being with him I've learned a lot of baseball. He gave me the opportunity and during early 1965, before he was hurt, I always sat on the bench beside him and talked with him about line-ups."

Westrum expressed confidence the Mets were "well on their way up" after four 10th-place finishes. The first three years the Mets won 40, 51 and 53 games. Last year under Stengel the Mets had a 31-64 record and were 19-48 under Westrum's leadership.

Fathers Image Is 2-1 Pick In Garden Stakes

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Trainer Arnold Winick doesn't check the weather, the weights, the distance, or even the horse's temperature before he decides to race Fathers Image.

He checks pictures of the 2-year-old colt's knees.

Winick is a firm believer in the research, which indicates knee X rays can determine when young horses are ready to race. There must be something to it, because Winick has brought the son of Swaps to the point where he is the 2-1 choice in Saturday's $125,000-added Garden State Stakes at Garden State Park.

"The knee joint of young horses matures at different times in different horses," Winick said.

"X rays are the only sure way to find out, and we've been handling Fathers Image strictly on what they show every three months."

Winick explained that because of the maturity of his bones, Fathers Image has been trained and raced lightly. He didn't start until last Aug. 16, and has one victory and four seconds in five starts.

He said owner John Olin of Alton, Ill., is interested in developing a classic horse.

"The money is no factor at all," Winick said.

Last week in the Pimlico Futurity, Fathers Image finished first, but was disqualified after a bumping contest with Mrs. Milton Erlanger's Spring Double.

Winick leaves no doubt he expects Fathers Image to win the 1 1-16-mile Garden State and the $187,167 first money. With 12 starters the race will gross $311,945.

Spring Double is the early second choice in the expected field of 2-year-olds, each carrying 122 pounds.

Fathers Image drew the No. 3 post position and Spring Double No. 9.

Other expected starters at the 4:15 p.m., EST, post are Amberoid, Stands to Reason, Prince Saim, Our Michael, the entry of Defiant Sun and Gun Flint, Needle Him, Barmer, Valam and Auric.

At Inter-American Conference

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. sources anticipated today that extension of aid to Latin America beyond the 10-year Alliance for Progress program will be one of the major economic themes in the special inter - American conference now under way here.

Under the program of large-scale aid for economic and social reforms, the United States has been contributing roughly $1 billion a year since 1961.

Proponents of the program say it has spurred aid-receiving countries to put up much larger sums of their own for their development, and a number of Latin-American states should be able to proceed without outside help by the end of the decade.

But it is generally expected, the U.S. sources said, that all pockets of poverty will not be wiped out by 1971. Hence the idea of extending the Alliance for Progress beyond the current "decade of development."

No hard-and-fast dollar commitments are expected out of the current foreign ministers' parley. This special inter-American conference is reviewing the hemisphere system in a broad way and so far has tended to avoid detailed projects.

The Latin-American delegates here are well aware that Congress controls the U.S. government's purse and the U.S. delegation headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot bind the United States to spending in future years.

In the U.S. view, other American republics should join in dispensing aid when they reach an economic takeoff point themselves. One example cited was Mexico — receiver of nearly $500 million in the first four years of the Alliance for Progress. Mexico is now prospering and extending help to Central America.

Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the Organization of American States declared Thursday that the Alliance for Progress should become a permanent part of the inter-American system.

Addressing the foreign ministers and delegates from 19 countries at the conference's first plenary session, Mora joined those who are urging greater powers for the OAS and its secretary-general.

The conference set up four working committees, named host Foreign Minister Vasco Leitao da Cunha of Brazil conference president, and agreed to close Nov. 30.

Woman Injured In Fall Among 4 Who Are Treated

A woman hurt in a fall at home and a man injured at work were among four district residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Louise Welch of 148 Indiana Ave., Chester, suffered cuts and abrasions of the left knee in a fall over a brick in the yard at home.

Thomas Sullivan of 1936 Michigan Ave., an employe of the Commercial Motor Freight Co. received an injury to the left thumb when a piece of steel fell.

James Cupp, son of John Cupp of 815 Orchard Grove Ave., suffered a head injury while playing football.

Ray Beadnell son of Clarence Beadnell of 315 Carolina Ave., was treated for a cut on the left foot received while playing ball in a gym class.

Bob Allison led the Minnesota Twins in bases on balls last season with 73. He ranked second in strikeouts with 114. Zoilo Versalles fanned 122 times.

Agreement Ends Anti-Trust Suit Against Paper

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — An agreement was filed here in federal court by the Justice Department Thursday, winding up its antitrust suit against the Lima News.

Scheduled to become final Nov. 30, the agreement between the news and the Justice Department is a consent judgment to which both parties agree.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach indicated in Washington the Justice Department will permit the order to become final, thus concluding the suit, although the government could withdraw its approval at any time before that date.

The consent judgment, Katzenbach said, provides protection for any new newspaper in Lima, while terminating the government's suit charging the Lima News with illegal monopolization of the nwwspaper business in that community.

One year ago the original suit against the Lima News, Freedom Newspapers, Inc., and its officers, charge them with violating anti-trust laws by operating at a loss of $6 million over six years when a competing newspaper, the Lima Citizen, began publication. The Citizen went out of business Jan. 7, 1964.

Tape Of Conversation In Air Crash Replayed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Just before it started raining at Greater Cincinnati Airport, Local Control told the jetliner with 62 persons aboard that approach and runway lights were "all at high intensity."

"Okay" answered the pilot of American Airlines flight 383 out of New York, as it continued its approach to runway 18 the evening of Nov. 8.

That transmission at 7:01 p.m. was the last word from the plane. As the minutes passed and the rain continued, Local Control called for it eight times, before another plane reported at 7:06.

"A big flash of fire just south of the river. Just, uh, on the south side of the river on the approach to (runway) one eight there, a big flash of fire and it was still burning."

The airliner, a Boeing 727, had plowed into a bluff overlooking the Ohio River near Constance, Ky., killing 58 of the people aboard. The crash occurred less than two miles from the airport.

Federal authorities, who have been investigating the disaster, replayed the taped conversations at a news conference Thursday.

The officials ruled out all questions but they did clarify some points in the tape which began about five minutes before Greater Cincinnati's worst airplane disaster. They said the pilot apparently was switching partly to instruments after he had been cleared for a visual approach.

At one point—52 seconds before the last transmission from the airliner—Local Control said on the tower intercom "I don't think he's going to make it," but officials said this meant only that Control did not believe the 727 could stay on a visual landing operation.

The plane which radioed the first news of the crash was an Aero Commander owned by Hogan Air Taxi of Hamilton, Ohio.

After the Boeing 727 vanished, the tower told the Aero Commander to stay in the air. Pilot John Kuhn of Hamilton replied he could remain airborne a while longer and added in a partly unintelligible transmission:

". . . As I was heading down through there I. . ."

Approach Control asked the Aero Commander to repeat this. Kuhn did so, describing the fire, reporting that he "just saw another small explosion in that fire."

Rescue workers climbed up the hillside and reached the wreckage within minutes, but found only five survivors. One of them died on the way to a hospital.

Mail Will Go Through Faster If You Cooperate

With the continued cooperation of the public, the post office expects to handle a greater volume of mail with less effort than it did in 1964, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

The use of Zip codes and public cooperation in mailing early were the main reasons for the success of the department last year when it handled the largest amount of mail in history and had the most efficient operation.

Nationally, about 99 per cent of the Christmas mail reached its destination before Christmas Eve, Brown said.

Many communities have been blessed with new offices to aid their operation, but East Liverpool still is trying to do its 1965 work in space alloted in 1907, which makes the task more difficult, the postmaster pointed out.

He urged each family to update previous address lists and include the Zip code numbers on letters and greeting cards as well as packages definitely will help eliminate bottlenecks in large city terminals through which mail without Zip code numbers will have to pass.

The postmaster urged preparation of gift lists and shopping as well as mailing early. He reminded residents to have a a sufficient supply of shipping materials, boxes, tape, wrapping paper on hand.

Brown renewed his yearly appeal to use first-class postage on greeting cards to assure that they will be forwarded if the recipient has moved and that undeliverable cards will be returned if a return address is on the envelope.

The new Christmas stamp now is available and should be purchased early before all have been sold, Brown said.

He again emphasized that poorly - wrapped and loosely-packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage and urged that cartons be packed tightly by using stuffing material to fill empty spaces around the merchandise.

'Hot In Saigon,' Naval Man Says In Call To Home

It was hot in Saigon Thursday.

That was the weather information from Navy Radioman 2C Richard Lowe, 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lowe of 221 W. 2nd St., who telephoned his mother yesterday.

Husband of Mrs. Beverly Lowe of 312 W. 3rd St., the serviceman arrived in Saigon Nov. 1, having volunteered for duty at his last post at Boston, Mass. Lowe, who has two sons and a daughter, has been in the Navy 17 years and plans to be in an office in Saigon for 11 months.

1 Killed, 3 Injured

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth R. Rankin, 16, Maineville, was killed and two other boys and a girl were injured Thursday night when their car left a rural road east of Morrow and struck a tree.

Injured were the driver, Larry L. Padgett, 16, Mainesville, and passengers Jim Kelly, 16, and Nancy Williams, 15, both of Morrow. They suffered minor injuries and were treated at Clinton County Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, the sheriff's office said.

At Inter-American Conference

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. sources anticipated today that extension of aid to Latin America beyond the 10-year Alliance for Progress program will be one of the major economic themes in the special inter - American conference now under way here.

Under the program of large-scale aid for economic and social reforms, the United States has been contributing roughly $1 billion a year since 1961.

Proponents of the program say it has spurred aid-receiving countries to put up much larger sums of their own for their development, and a number of Latin-American states should be able to proceed without outside help by the end of the decade.

But it is generally expected, the U.S. sources said, that all pockets of poverty will not be wiped out by 1971. Hence the idea of extending the Alliance for Progress beyond the current "decade of development."

No hard-and-fast dollar commitments are expected out of the current foreign ministers' parley. This special inter-American conference is reviewing the hemisphere system in a broad way and so far has tended to avoid detailed projects.

The Latin-American delegates here are well aware that Congress controls the U.S. government's purse and the U.S. delegation headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot bind the United States to spending in future years.

In the U.S. view, other American republics should join in dispensing aid when they reach an economic takeoff point themselves. One example cited was Mexico — receiver of nearly $500 million in the first four years of the Alliance for Progress. Mexico is now prospering and extending help to Central America.

Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the Organization of American States declared Thursday that the Alliance for Progress should become a permanent part of the inter-American system.

Addressing the foreign ministers and delegates from 19 countries at the conference's first plenary session, Mora joined those who are urging greater powers for the OAS and its secretary-general.

The conference set up four working committees, named host Foreign Minister Vasco Leitao da Cunha of Brazil conference president, and agreed to close Nov. 30.

Woman Injured In Fall Among 4 Who Are Treated

A woman hurt in a fall at home and a man injured at work were among four district residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Louise Welch of 148 Indiana Ave., Chester, suffered cuts and abrasions of the left knee in a fall over a brick in the yard at home.

Thomas Sullivan of 1936 Michigan Ave., an employe of the Commercial Motor Freight Co. received an injury to the left thumb when a piece of steel fell.

James Cupp, son of John Cupp of 815 Orchard Grove Ave., suffered a head injury while playing football.

Ray Beadnell son of Clarence Beadnell of 315 Carolina Ave., was treated for a cut on the left foot received while playing ball in a gym class.

Bob Allison led the Minnesota Twins in bases on balls last season with 73. He ranked second in strikeouts with 114. Zoilo Versalles fanned 122 times.

Agreement Ends Anti-Trust Suit Against Paper

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — An agreement was filed here in federal court by the Justice Department Thursday, winding up its antitrust suit against the Lima News.

Scheduled to become final Nov. 30, the agreement between the news and the Justice Department is a consent judgment to which both parties agree.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach indicated in Washington the Justice Department will permit the order to become final, thus concluding the suit, although the government could withdraw its approval at any time before that date.

The consent judgment, Katzenbach said, provides protection for any new newspaper in Lima, while terminating the government's suit charging the Lima News with illegal monopolization of the nwwspaper business in that community.

One year ago the original suit against the Lima News, Freedom Newspapers, Inc., and its officers, charge them with violating anti-trust laws by operating at a loss of $6 million over six years when a competing newspaper, the Lima Citizen, began publication. The Citizen went out of business Jan. 7, 1964.

Negroes Get More Roles On Television

A vigorous campaign waged by Negro leaders several years ago to get better representation for their race in television programming is belatedly bearing significant fruit.

Richard Doan

At the time that greatest pressures were being exerted, the networks pledged integration efforts and actually made some token moves to inject Negroes into production as well as performing roles.

-:-

IT WAS NOT UNTIL this fall, however, that the real breakthrough came with the successful introduction of comedian Bill Cosby as Robert Culp's boon companion in the NBC dramatic series, "I Spy."

Then several weeks ago came NBC's announcement of the hiring of Sammy Davis Jr. to headline a weekly variety hour — something no member of his race ever has done. Not too many months ago Davis was satisfied to star in a local one-shot on ABC's New York station.

Next Monday daytime soap opera, which has been pretty much a white man's world, will become conspicuously integrated.

James Earl Jones, a 6-foot-1 Mississippi - born Negro actor who has been seen in the title role of Shakespeare's "Othello" in off-Broadway and New York's Central Park repertory, has been signed for a "continuing lead role" in the top-rated CBS serial, "As the World Turns."

-:-

THIS IS the afternoon drama in which former film star Gloria De Haven also became a regular performer this week.

Jones will portray Dr. Jerry Turner, senior resident in surgery in the Memorial Hospital at Oakdale, small-town setting of the drama. The serial originates live from New York.

Jones is best remembered by TV audiences for his performance with Diana Sands in "Who Do You Kill?" — an award-winning episode of the CBS series, "East Side, West Side," two years ago this month.

In his only movie role, the actor was seen as a member of the bomber crew in "Dr. Strangelove."

THERE HAS BEEN no particular heat on the broadcasters of late to give minorities a greater role, as far as is generally known. The developments of the past few months appear simply to be a product of improved climate with respect to Negro performers among Southern stations and audiences.

An NBC official said the network has no exact lineup of stations yet for the new Sammy Davis show, but has heard "nothing but enthusiasm" from affiliates so far and expects the series to inherit all the outlets presently carrying "Convoy," which it will replace.

The network spokesman said that "only three or four" Southern stations "for various reasons" don't carry "I Spy." He said no station was known to have refused the program because of Cosby's role.

THE ROLE that color plays in the choice of TV watching in homes with color sets has been illustrated sharply in a special Trendex survey of 26 major cities in the first four weeks of the current TV season.

The poll found that in color TV homes the 10 most popular telecasts were all in color—and all on NBC — and the 20 least popular of all prime-time shows in these homes were all black-and-white programs.

The top 10 were: Dean Martin's show, "Man from U.N.C.L.E.," Andy Williams' show, the telecast of Pope Paul VI's Yankee Stadium mass, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," "Bonanza," "Run for Your Life," "Hullabaloo," "I Spy" and "Get Smart" made the top 10.

The Trendex study also found that TV is watched 27 per cent more in homes with color sets than in those with nontinted ones.

Firemen Pick Ohioville Man

Amedeo Ulizio of the Ohioville Fire Department was elected president of the Tri - State Firemen's Association Thursday night at the Glenmoor fire station. Forty - two attended.

Ulzio, millwright at hte Crucible Steel Co., succeeds Robert White of Glenmoor.

Others named were Ronald Wathey of Glenmoor, vice president; Devine Banks of Glenmoor, secretary; William Rodgers of Liverpool West, treasurer, and Tom King of Ohioville, fire instructor.

The group will not meet in December because of the Christmas holiday. The January meeting will be held at the Lawrenceville department, with installation of officers planned.

Kent President Cites Aid Loss In Project Delay

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Robert I. White, president of Kent State University says delays in residence hall construction could cost the school $609,335 in state aid for the 1965-66 academic year.

White told the board of trustees Thursday that the average student on the 14,800-student campus is carrying 14 credit hours. The state gives each state-supported university $533 for each full-time student — a student who carries 15 or more credit hours.

"It is possible that the increasing emphasis on quality has persuaded some students to take less than a full course load," White said. Last year, students averaged 16 credit hours.

The problem might be solved by enrolling more students, but White also pointed out that the university does not have enough housing for more students.

Trustees approved establishing an honors college and gave school officials permission to seek $4 million in federal funds for a proposed $2.6 million housing complex and $1.4 million residence hall.

Also approved by the trustees was a tentative agreement with Cleveland State University for 1,600 students from Kent State's Cleveland, Bedford and Euclid academic centers to transfer to CSU.

Canton Girl Wounded In Shooting Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Six year-old Valarie Sell of Canton was reported in guarded condition in Aultman Hospital today with a wound in the head suffered when a shotgun discharged accidentally at her home.

Sheriff's deputies said the girl and her brother, Danny, 11, were home alone Thursday and playing in the living room when a shotgun fell in a closet. Danny told the deputies he was carrying the gun to another closet when it fell from his hand and discharged.

Barber Pole Spirals Down Instead Of Up

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — A barber pole that runs backwards and causes the stripes to spiral down instead of up, is mixing up the customers.

Barber Paul White says he has tried about everything to correct the backward spiral but is unable to make it spiral in the right direction.

"I tried reversing the motor, and I tried reversing the painted cellophane cylinder," he said mournfully. "Nothing worked. So I came to the conclusion the stripes were just painted on backwards, or upside down, or something."

Bills Peril Cruisers

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief Nicholas J. Polito of neighboring Struthers has told City Council there that the city will have to stop operation of its police cruisers unless it pays long standing bills for gasoline. The chief said Thursday that "our credit has been shut off. The creditors that have carried us so long need their money."

Buys Garfield Letters

CLEVELAND (AP) — A collection of personal letters written by President James A. Garfield to a close friend, Gen. David G. Swain, has been purchased by the Western Reserve Historical Society. The society announced the purchase Thursday on the eve of the 134th anniversary of the birth of the 20th President of the United States.

Keep a set of round-bowl fractional measuing spoons in your kitchen—you'll find them useful. For exammple, the 1 - teaspoon size may be used for making melon balls instead of a regular melon ball cutter; the tablespoon size does a good job when you are making "drop" cookies.

Stark's Assured Johnson Will Get Disaster Aid Bid

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County officials have been assured that President Johnson will receive their request to declare a part of the county struck by a tornado Tuesday night a disaster area.

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown gave the assurance Thursday after an aerial inspection tour of the six-mile-long storm area.

The Red Cross planned to open a disaster relief office today in a church in the storm-swept section. The Red Cross was designated by Stark County commissioners as the officials relief agency.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R - Ohio, who represents the Canton area, informed the White House of the situation and contacted the Small Business Administration.

The SBA, which supplies long-term, low-interest loans for reconstruction, arranged with a bank in nearby Louisville for stricken families to start filling applications for assistance today.

Public officials and utility companies estimate a loss of $1.2 million in Stark County.

She Quit Teaching, Now Bank Executive

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Mrs. Helen C. Wardlaw admits that she left teaching to become a banker with some misgivings.

"I thought," she says, "that it would just mean taking shorthand and typing and I was afraid it would be quite dull."

But now, as the new senior vice president of the First Union National Bank, a statewide half-billion dollar institution, she smilingly reports, "I can honestly say I haven't had a dull day here."

Mrs. Wardlaw began her banking career as secretary to the president, rose to assistant to the president a year later, and in 1954 was elected assistant vice - president of the bank. She was made a vice-president in 1956.

Her new position places her in rather elite company. According to a National Association of Bank Women listing, only six other women in the United States hold that position.

Where This Trucker Eats, He Also Owns

MILL GREEN, England (AP)—Truck driver Clifford Shaw didn't like it when he heard the owners were closing down his favorite road-side tearoom—so he bought it.

"I know it may seem an extravagant thing to do," he said, "but someone had to do it."

The Rainbow Tearoom is the only place selling tea, coffee and snacks along a 20-mile stretch of road in this part of Cheshire. Shaw travels the 20 miles a couple of times a day.

"I drew on my savings," said the 33-year-old trucker, "got a little help from my bank and swung the deal. The owners didn't ask a lot for it, for it's hardly a goldmine. If it breaks even I'll be happy.

He said his wife Mavis would help out behind the counter.

Negroes Get More Roles On Television

A vigorous campaign waged by Negro leaders several years ago to get better representation for their race in television programming is belatedly bearing significant fruit.

Richard Doan

At the time that greatest pressures were being exerted, the networks pledged integration efforts and actually made some token moves to inject Negroes into production as well as performing roles.

-:-

IT WAS NOT UNTIL this fall, however, that the real breakthrough came with the successful introduction of comedian Bill Cosby as Robert Culp's boon companion in the NBC dramatic series, "I Spy."

Then several weeks ago came NBC's announcement of the hiring of Sammy Davis Jr. to headline a weekly variety hour — something no member of his race ever has done. Not too many months ago Davis was satisfied to star in a local one-shot on ABC's New York station.

Next Monday daytime soap opera, which has been pretty much a white man's world, will become conspicuously integrated.

James Earl Jones, a 6-foot-1 Mississippi - born Negro actor who has been seen in the title role of Shakespeare's "Othello" in off-Broadway and New York's Central Park repertory, has been signed for a "continuing lead role" in the top-rated CBS serial, "As the World Turns."

-:-

THIS IS the afternoon drama in which former film star Gloria De Haven also became a regular performer this week.

Jones will portray Dr. Jerry Turner, senior resident in surgery in the Memorial Hospital at Oakdale, small-town setting of the drama. The serial originates live from New York.

Jones is best remembered by TV audiences for his performance with Diana Sands in "Who Do You Kill?" — an award-winning episode of the CBS series, "East Side, West Side," two years ago this month.

In his only movie role, the actor was seen as a member of the bomber crew in "Dr. Strangelove."

THERE HAS BEEN no particular heat on the broadcasters of late to give minorities a greater role, as far as is generally known. The developments of the past few months appear simply to be a product of improved climate with respect to Negro performers among Southern stations and audiences.

An NBC official said the network has no exact lineup of stations yet for the new Sammy Davis show, but has heard "nothing but enthusiasm" from affiliates so far and expects the series to inherit all the outlets presently carrying "Convoy," which it will replace.

The network spokesman said that "only three or four" Southern stations "for various reasons" don't carry "I Spy." He said no station was known to have refused the program because of Cosby's role.

THE ROLE that color plays in the choice of TV watching in homes with color sets has been illustrated sharply in a special Trendex survey of 26 major cities in the first four weeks of the current TV season.

The poll found that in color TV homes the 10 most popular telecasts were all in color—and all on NBC — and the 20 least popular of all prime-time shows in these homes were all black-and-white programs.

The top 10 were: Dean Martin's show, "Man from U.N.C.L.E.," Andy Williams' show, the telecast of Pope Paul VI's Yankee Stadium mass, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," "Bonanza," "Run for Your Life," "Hullabaloo," "I Spy" and "Get Smart" made the top 10.

The Trendex study also found that TV is watched 27 per cent more in homes with color sets than in those with nontinted ones.

Ulzio, millwright at hte Crucible Steel Co., succeeds Robert White of Glenmoor.

Others named were Ronald Wathey of Glenmoor, vice president; Devine Banks of Glenmoor, secretary; William Rodgers of Liverpool West, treasurer, and Tom King of Ohioville, fire instructor.

The group will not meet in December because of the Christmas holiday. The January meeting will be held at the Lawrenceville department, with installation of officers planned.

Kent President Cites Aid Loss In Project Delay

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Robert I. White, president of Kent State University says delays in residence hall construction could cost the school $609,335 in state aid for the 1965-66 academic year.

White told the board of trustees Thursday that the average student on the 14,800-student campus is carrying 14 credit hours. The state gives each state-supported university $533 for each full-time student — a student who carries 15 or more credit hours.

"It is possible that the increasing emphasis on quality has persuaded some students to take less than a full course load," White said. Last year, students averaged 16 credit hours.

The problem might be solved by enrolling more students, but White also pointed out that the university does not have enough housing for more students.

Trustees approved establishing an honors college and gave school officials permission to seek $4 million in federal funds for a proposed $2.6 million housing complex and $1.4 million residence hall.

Also approved by the trustees was a tentative agreement with Cleveland State University for 1,600 students from Kent State's Cleveland, Bedford and Euclid academic centers to transfer to CSU.

Canton Girl Wounded In Shooting Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Six year-old Valarie Sell of Canton was reported in guarded condition in Aultman Hospital today with a wound in the head suffered when a shotgun discharged accidentally at her home.

Sheriff's deputies said the girl and her brother, Danny, 11, were home alone Thursday and playing in the living room when a shotgun fell in a closet. Danny told the deputies he was carrying the gun to another closet when it fell from his hand and discharged.

Barber Pole Spirals Down Instead Of Up

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — A barber pole that runs backwards and causes the stripes to spiral down instead of up, is mixing up the customers.

Barber Paul White says he has tried about everything to correct the backward spiral but is unable to make it spiral in the right direction.

"I tried reversing the motor, and I tried reversing the painted cellophane cylinder," he said mournfully. "Nothing worked. So I came to the conclusion the stripes were just painted on backwards, or upside down, or something."

Bills Peril Cruisers

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief Nicholas J. Polito of neighboring Struthers has told City Council there that the city will have to stop operation of its police cruisers unless it pays long standing bills for gasoline. The chief said Thursday that "our credit has been shut off. The creditors that have carried us so long need their money."

Buys Garfield Letters

CLEVELAND (AP) — A collection of personal letters written by President James A. Garfield to a close friend, Gen. David G. Swain, has been purchased by the Western Reserve Historical Society. The society announced the purchase Thursday on the eve of the 134th anniversary of the birth of the 20th President of the United States.

Keep a set of round-bowl fractional measuing spoons in your kitchen—you'll find them useful. For exammple, the 1 - teaspoon size may be used for making melon balls instead of a regular melon ball cutter; the tablespoon size does a good job when you are making "drop" cookies.

Stark's Assured Johnson Will Get Disaster Aid Bid

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County officials have been assured that President Johnson will receive their request to declare a part of the county struck by a tornado Tuesday night a disaster area.

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown gave the assurance Thursday after an aerial inspection tour of the six-mile-long storm area.

The Red Cross planned to open a disaster relief office today in a church in the storm-swept section. The Red Cross was designated by Stark County commissioners as the officials relief agency.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R - Ohio, who represents the Canton area, informed the White House of the situation and contacted the Small Business Administration.

The SBA, which supplies long-term, low-interest loans for reconstruction, arranged with a bank in nearby Louisville for stricken families to start filling applications for assistance today.

Public officials and utility companies estimate a loss of $1.2 million in Stark County.

She Quit Teaching, Now Bank Executive

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP — Mrs. Helen C. Wardlaw admits that she left teaching to become a banker with some misgivings.

"I thought," she says, "that it would just mean taking shorthand and typing and I was afraid it would be quite dull."

But now, as the new senior vice president of the First Union National Bank, a statewide half-billion dollar institution, she smilingly reports, "I can honestly say I haven't had a dull day here."

Mrs. Wardlaw began her banking career as secretary to the president, rose to assistant to the president a year later, and in 1954 was elected assistant vice - president of the bank. She was made a vice-president in 1956.

Her new position places her in rather elite company. According to a National Association of Bank Women listing, only six other women in the United States hold that position.

Where This Trucker Eats, He Also Owns

MILL GREEN, England (AP— Truck driver Clifford Shaw didn't like it when he heard the owners were closing down his favorite road-side tearoom—so he bought it.

"I know it may seem an extravagant thing to do," he said, "but someone had to do it."

The Rainbow Tearoom is the only place selling tea, coffee and snacks along a 20-mile stretch of road in this part of Cheshire. Shaw travels the 20 miles a couple of times a day.

"I drew on my savings," said the 33-year-old trucker, "got a little help from my bank and swung the deal. The owners didn't ask a lot for it, for it's hardly a goldmine. If it breaks even I'll be happy.

He said his wife Mavis would help out behind the counter.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Where do birds go at night?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The first thing you will notice about birds as you study them is how very active they are. The fast pace at which they live means that their bodies, especially their flight muscles, need plenty of rest at night. Yet few of us see birds when they are asleep. There is a very good reason for this. Since most birds must watch out for enemies, it is dangerous for them to sleep unless they are well hidden. Birds are expert at hiding, and that's why we don't see them at night. Many birds sleep standing on the twigs of tall trees, high up and concealed in the foilage. They are very apt to tuck their bills into their wing feathers, and the feathers of their shoulders make soft pillows for their heads. Other birds may sleep deep inside thickets on the ground, such as the bob white in the lower left of our picture, all facing outward for better detection of enemies. In the winter, birds look for holes in dead trees or burrow in leaves. Water birds often sleep floating on the water, as we show at lower right. Here, they are safer than they would be if ashore. When a perching bird squats down on a twig, the bones of his feet lock together to keep him from falling off. He must stand up to release them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Our artist has put 29 birds into his picture, including both those sleeping and those awake. See if you can find them all.

★ ★ ★

Suzanne Stefanick of Webster, Mass., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Where do birds go at night?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The first thing you will notice about birds as you study them is how very active they are. The fast pace at which they live means that their bodies, especially their flight muscles, need plenty of rest at night. Yet few of us see birds when they are asleep. There is a very good reason for this. Since most birds must watch out for enemies, it is dangerous for them to sleep unless they are well hidden. Birds are expert at hiding, and that's why we don't see them at night. Many birds sleep standing on the twigs of tall trees, high up and concealed in the foilage. They are very apt to tuck their bills into their wing feathers, and the feathers of their shoulders make soft pillows for their heads. Other birds may sleep deep inside thickets on the ground, such as the bob white in the lower left of our picture, all facing outward for better detection of enemies. In the winter, birds look for holes in dead trees or burrow in leaves. Water birds often sleep floating on the water, as we show at lower right. Here, they are safer than they would be if ashore. When a perching bird squats down on a twig, the bones of his feet lock together to keep him from falling off. He must stand up to release them.

W. Va. Public Utilities Taxes Set At $837 Million For '66

CHARLESTON (AP) — Public utilities operating in West Virginia will pay taxes next year on assessments totaling almost $837 million, a slight increase over the current fiscal year.

The Board of Public Works set the assessments Thursday and once again put the heaviest tax burden on the Norfolk and Western Railway.

The N&W's assessment will be $126 million. This marks a decrease of $2 million from current figures.

Appalachian Power Co. received the second largest assessment. Appalachian will pay taxes on an assessment of $119.9 million, $1.4 million above the current year.

In all, railroads will pay taxes on assessments totaling $273.8 million. Of this amount, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will be assessed $97 million and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will pay taxes on $43 million.

A spokesman for the C&O and B&O, which soon will complete a full merger, said his companies were satisfied with the assessments. However, N&W officials complained bitterly and charged West Virginia has the highest railroad taxes in the nation.

Other major taxpayers among public utilities next year:

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., $61.2 million, up almost $4 million; Monongahela Power Co., $76.1 million, up $2 million; Hope Natural Gas Co., $68.7 million, up $1.6 million.

United Fuel Gas Co., $83 million, up $2 million; Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., $28.6 million, up $3 million; Atlantic Seaboard Corp., $35.4 million, no change; Equitable Gas Co., $14.9 million, no change.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co., $11.7 million, up $1 million; West Virginia Water Co., $11.5 million, up $600,000; Virginia Electric & Power Co., $10.2 million, up $992,300, Potomac Light & Power Co., $10.2 million.

Move By Ike Due Approval

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors are expected to give the green light today for the former president to be moved to Washington to complete the mending of his damaged heart.

With Army Surgeon Gen. Leonard Heaton helping with the arrangements, the physicians plan to disclose just when and how the 75-year-old general will be transferred to Walter Reed Army Hospital in the capital.

The doctors already have reported they are planning for Eisenhower to make the journey by train. But the timing has depended on the condition of the famous patient millions know as "Ike."

There was only one clue. Newsmen were told they would receive 24 hours notice before the move. That would make Saturday the earliest day for the transfer.

Eisenhower also has a tentative date with the press on Saturday — to have his picture taken for the first time since he entered the hospital 11 days ago.
